

Coastal Region in Path of Hurricane But Punch Lessens

Tornadoes Hit 2 Villages In Florida; 25 Homes Razed

Pensacola, Fla. —Punched by a twister which whirled by colder air, turned the little fishing village of Springfield. Another to the north today and another tornado ripped through the Mississippi-Alabama coast at about 15 miles per hour.

Still carrying top winds estimated at 100 miles an hour, Ethel earlier had aimed its fury at the Mobile-Pensacola area. But it swerved to the north and sped toward the Mississippi-Alabama coast at about 15 miles per hour.

At 8 a.m. Ethel was centered about 50 miles southwest of Mobile. The New Orleans weather bureau said it would move inland within the next few hours.

Meanwhile, more than 100 miles to the east, tornadoes blasted through two Florida villages in the Panama City area.

The Florida highway patrol said 25 houses were demolished.

U.S. Accuses Russians of Smear Tactics

Wadsworth Sees Plot to Turn Congo Into Red Satellite

United Nations, N.Y. —The United States asserted today the Soviet Union is carrying on a smear campaign against the United Nations in an effort to hide a plot to turn the Congo into a Soviet satellite.

U.S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth spoke before the security council, where he introduced a resolution pledging full U.S. support to U.N. Sec. Gen. Hammarskjold in his fight with the Russians. The U.S. resolution also called for a halt to the shipment of all arms, personnel and military supplies to the troubled African country by anyone except the United Nations.

Russian Attack Wadsworth addressed the 11-nation security council in the midst of a major crisis caused by a slashing Soviet attack on Hammarskjold as the alleged willing tool of the western powers.

Wadsworth accused the Soviet Union of trying to subvert U.N. operations in the Congo "under a smoke screen of voting for the security council resolutions." "In recent days," he said, "the pattern has become increasingly clear. By slandering the secretary general, the United Nations command and even some of the countries contributing troops, the Soviet Union had tried to cover up its penetration."

Phone Employee Admits Fire That Killed 4

Chicago —A young telephone company employee admits police say, setting a fire which killed four persons in Sterling July 4.

He is John Henry Davis, 23, formerly of Rock Falls, who, police said signed a statement Wednesday admitting he started the blaze for $1,200 of his own money.

She owned a heavily insured beauty shop in the building destroyed, police said. Police held both. "The blaze, which Davis said he touched off with two gallons of gasoline, engulfed Mrs. Brown's beauty parlor and apartments above. Police quoted Davis as saying Mrs. Brown, wife of a Sterling insurance man, had $13,500 insurance on her shop. She moved to Chicago after the fire and was seized in Chicago Wednesday.

"I didn't think there would be anyone in the building," Davis told police. "I thought everyone would be gone over the Fourth of July weekend."

Leader in Congo Coup Reported Under Arrest

Lumumba's Spokesman Says Colonel Held After Attempt to Seize Power

Leopoldville, the Congo —A spokesman for Premier Patrice Lumumba said today Col. Joseph Mobutu was arrested on Lumumba's orders 12 hours after the colonel announced the army was taking over power.

Mobutu, coming forward as an army strong man, announced last night that the army was "neutralizing" both Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu, the contestants in the Congo's own cold war for power, and that Russians and other communists were being given 48 hours to get out of the country.

Lumumba's spokesman, Serge Michel, a left wing French expatriate, announced today that Lumumba was still in power.

"The prime minister is having a working session," he said. "Col. Mobutu is out of harm's way. He has been arrested."

No one in the Congolese capital was surprised by the announcement of what appeared to be the second coup in 12 hours — with possibly others being prepared.

Crowds of President Kasavubu's Abako party supporters were still marching through the city, joyful over Mobutu's coup of last night and chanting for Lumumba's death.

I immediately after Michel's announcement of Mobutu's arrest, the senate met for an emergency session that was four short of a quorum.

Earlier Mobutu had told newsmen that Lumumba was at Camp Leopold II, the main army camp at Leopoldville. This was taken to mean that he was in custody, but the wily premier may have been busy winning his jailers over as he did once before when he was arrested on Kasavubu's orders.

Named by Kasavubu In the fast-changing situation, steel-helmeted U.N. soldiers dispersed troops of Congolese in the European quarters. U.N. Ghana troops waited behind machine guns.

Mobutu, a 30-year-old career officer named army chief of staff only yesterday by Kasavubu, had told newsmen that the embassies of Russia and her satellites were being

UN Tries to Save Whites

70 Reported Held By Tribesmen in Tin Mining Town

BY HENRI JONKER

Elisabethville, the Congo —The U.N. commandeer- ed planes here today for an attempt to rescue 70 white persons reported trapped in the tin mining town of Manono by tribesmen inflamed with narcotics and liquor.

Twenty-two Belgians and 140 Congolese were flown from Manono to Elisabethville in three U.N. planes last night. Whites who remained behind later radioed an appeal for help.

Trapped in Building They were reported bottled up in an office building by warriors of a Baluba faction called "the Tribe of the River" who overran the small town Tuesday night as adherents of Patrice Lumumba.

In Brussels, informed sources said the white staff of the Luena coal mine and their relatives were gathered in a clubhouse of Luena under protection of U.N. forces after attacks by members of the Baluba youth movement of Katanga.

Manono is a Katanga province town 400 miles north of Elisabethville, the capital.

Capt. Bernhard de Montblanc, pilot of the last of the three planes to leave Manono last night, said it was "a sea of flames below me."

The attack was reported to have been spurred by witch doctors who told the warriors no bullets could harm them if they took hashish, a narcotic derived from hemp.

They are armed with old rifles, homemade guns, battle- axes and bows and arrows.

Dock Workers Intend To Heckle Khrushchev On Arrival in U.S.

New York —The dock workers intend to heckle Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when he sails into New York harbor Monday.

Thomas W. (Teddy) Gleason, general organizer of the International Longshoremen's association, said Wednesday his union is hiring an excursion boat to go down the bay to meet the Baltika, the ship bringing Khrushchev here for the United Nations meeting.

The Baltika will dock at pier 73, East river and 25th street. The pier is 17 blocks south of the U.N.

When the Baltika is in earshot, Gleason said, the dockers will give out with catcalls and boos. The boat will be decorated with anti-communist placards and banners.

No Full Support for Groups, Nixon Says

President Must Work for All People, He Declares

St. Louis —Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the International Association of Machinists he would never, as president, be "100 per cent" for the program of any group in America.

The Republican presidential candidate declared it is the obligation of the president to work for the interest "of all the people of the United States and not to set one group against another."

Nixon spoke from the same platform in Kiel auditorium where Sen. John F. Kennedy, his Democratic rival, got a thunderous, snake dancing reception yesterday.

Some boos mingled with the cheers as Nixon, speaking to some 12,000 persons, asked the delegates to "look at the record" of accomplishments for working men under 7½ years of the Eisenhower administration.

He concluded by saying that, if elected, labor "will have a friend in the White House."

Often Applauded There was no big demonstration after Nixon concluded, as there was for Kennedy, but he was interrupted frequently by applause from the public gallery and often from the I.A.M. delegates themselves.

Nixon took a sideswipe at Kennedy for saying — as Nixon quoted him — "What the American labor movement wants is what I am for and what the American labor movement opposes I oppose."

Nixon said if he were solely concerned about votes I would tell you that today. "It might, he said, "win votes."

"But I won't tell you that and I'll tell you why," the vice president continued. "Because it wouldn't be good for you, for America, for a candidate for president of the United States to make that kind of statement."

Hopes for Labor Vote His address before a convention expected to give its endorsement to Kennedy preceded a flight to Atlantic City, N. J., for a speech to the National Labor Relations Board.

Grandpere's Bad Army Career Comes to Light

Ann Arbor, Mich. —It was a proud man who sought information about his grandfather from the director of University of Michigan's historical collection.

The man explained to the director, Dr. F. C. Bald, that his grandfather had been a member of a famous Michigan cavalry unit which fought in more than 100 battles in the Civil War.

The unit, he boasted, had captured Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy. Were there any details in the files about grandfather?

There were. Grandpa had deserted a week after he joined the army.

Clue to Fate of Coors Bones, Clothing at Trash Dump Believed Those of Rich Brewer

Denver —The discovered bones of a 6-foot man and the clothing of a truck driver on a target where he was serving a term shooting out, Edward Green, 30, of Englewood, found the clothing last Sunday.

He said he first found the shoes, about four feet apart, then a wadded pair of pants. "I kicked at them and heard a jingling noise. I looked in the pockets and found 43 cents and a key-made at a trash dump in the chain. There was a silver Rocky mountain foothills 12 pocket knife on the chain, miles west of Castle Rock, monogrammed with the initials 'AC II.' I knew right this is 25 miles from the rural bridge where Coors' abandoned truck was found last Feb. 9. He had left his liceman friend, who called mountain home that morning the FBI.

en route to work at the Adolph Coors company plant at Golden.

The FBI refused to speculate whether the bones are those of the 44-year-old 6-foot-er. Agents and sheriff's officers are continuing the search for the skull and other bones they said are required for identification. A pathologist said he is convinced he has found the bones of an adoned hope his son ever would adult male about six feet tall, be found alive.

Earlier this summer, the FBI disclosed that an escaped murderer, Joseph Corbett, Jr., had lived here for four years under an assumed name and left Denver hurriedly the day after Coors men said at the time they disappeared.

Admiral Faces Charge Of Smuggling Liquor

San Francisco —The newly-retired admiral and on comes Sept. 23 when he is expected to appear for arraignment in federal district court.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Donald Constine said the prime label scotch, bourbon, brandy, gin, cognac and liqueurs was bought at the navy officers' liquor.

Yesterday the government charged Rear Adm. William L. Erdmann, a much decorated former navy commander at Guam, smuggled home 42 cases (504 bottles) of choice tax-free liquor.

"It's news to me," the 57-year-old Annapolis graduate said of the indictment. "I can't comment at this time, but I suppose I'll have my inning in court."

His first inning came when he posted $1,000 bail. The second inning came when he was charged with smuggling liquor.

The 4-engine Braniff International Airways DC7 burst into flames as it tore into the 3-story Braniff hangar. The flames were quickly extinguished and no one in the building was hurt.

Elmer R. Tiffany, 43, a Braniff inspector who had worked for the company 20 years, died shortly after arriving at a hospital. The other men suffered injuries, none critical.

It took rescue workers nearly two hours to free five of the men.

End 30-Day Round Trip Moon Flight

San Antonio —Two air force pilots, grinning and happy, today completed a record-breaking 30-day simulated flight to the moon and back.

Capt. William D. Habluetzel, of Ingleside, Texas, and First Lt. John W. Har- graves, Jr., of Castle Air Force base, Calif., stepped from their 8 by 12 foot pressurized steel tank at 6:30 a.m.

Habluetzel, 36, and Har- graves, 30, were locked in the space cabin simulator at the School of Aviation Medicine here Aug. 15.

"I feel fine, just a little wobbly in the knees," said Habluetzel.

"I'm okay, except maybe I lost 15 pounds," said Har- graves.

Airliner Hits Hangar; 1 Dead

Dallas —A huge airliner swerved out of control at Love field yesterday and smashed into a hangar killing one of seven men aboard.

A steel girder protruding from the building sliced through the nose of the plane as far back as the cockpit.

Authorize State's 12 Democratic Electors to Bolt, if Necessary; Spells Trouble for Party in Fall

Atlanta, Ga., —A rebellion by Georgia voters against national and state Democratic leaders spelled trouble today for the party in the November general election and perhaps in the electoral college later if a Republican challenge is turned back.

The revolt came yesterday in a Democratic primary referendum. The voters apparently authorized the state's 12 party electors to bolt if they see fit instead of giving electoral college support to John F. Kennedy for president and Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president.

The straw vote, sponsored by youthful Gov. Ernest Vandiver before he announced support for the national ticket, was purely advisory and not binding on the electoral slate the governor heads. Vandiver had said he would vote as an elector for Kennedy and Johnson barring unforeseen developments. Seven others concurred.

Question Develops
Mounting returns for unpledged electors posed a question of whether this might be construed as such a development. Vandiver

Poland Joins Squeeze Put on West Berlin

Reds Refuse to Recognize West German Passports

BY GEORGE BOULTWOOD
Berlin —P— Poland today joined in the communist squeeze on West Berlin.

The Warsaw government, following the example of East Germany, refused to recognize the validity of West German passports for travel to the east.

A spokesman at the Polish mission here said West Berliners travelling to Poland must have their visas stamped on a separate piece of paper attached to their personal identity cards.

Follow Suit
Czechoslovakia was expected to impose the same restrictions.

For the last two weeks East German communists have been jabbing at Western Berlin, a 4-power occupation city since 1945.

The ultimate objective is to get the allies out of Berlin.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt charged last night that the squeeze was an attempt to "isolate and humiliate" West Berliners. He said in a TV broadcast that free Berlin could survive the communist threats only so long as its fate was handled on an international level.

West Germany and its big three allies moved gingerly toward imposing trade sanctions on East Germany in retaliation for the communist travel restrictions.

File Protest
Western officials in Bonn disclosed the United States, Britain and France have officially protested to the Soviet Union.

The Soviets rejected a previous west protest when the East Germans imposed a test-run squeeze two weeks ago before making the travel restrictions permanent. Under the post-war agreement, the west hold the Russians responsible for actions of the East Germans in the red-ruled half of Berlin.

11 Million Americans Suffer From Arthritis, Rheumatism Yearly

Washington —P— Nearly 11 million Americans suffer from arthritis or rheumatism, about 1,223,000 of them severely enough to spend one or more days a year, the public health service said today.

A new report said 759,000 spend at least seven days out of each year in bed, and others much longer periods.

The findings came from a survey conducted among 73,000 households all over the country from July 1957 to June 1959.

Other findings:
1. The estimated 10,845,000 sufferers for the nation as a whole represent a rate of approximately 64 cases for each 1,000 population — ranging from 2 per 1,000 among persons under 25 years of age to 286 per 1,000 among persons 75 years and older.

2. Prevalence was reported higher among females than males—81 cases per 1,000 females, against 46 per 1,000 males.

3. Approximately 10 percent of sufferers "were confined to the house, except in emergencies, or were limited or needed help in getting around outside the house."

Warm Welcome Given Guinea President

Hong Kong —P— Communist China has accorded the warmest welcome ever given a foreign dignitary to President Sekou Toure of Guinea. As smoke seeped through the overturned aircraft, the stewardesses freed the passengers as they hung upside-down in their seats and led them through emergency exits.

3 Congressmen Boycott Sailing Under Mexican Celebration

Object to Pro-Cuban Speech Implying U. S. Is 'Sinister Outside Influence'

Mexico City —P— A pro-Cuban speech by a Mexican deputy provoked three U. S. congressmen into boycotting a luncheon marking Mexico's 150th anniversary celebration. Sen. Kenneth Keating (R-NY); Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) and Rep. John J. Rhodes (R-Ariz.), yesterday refused to attend after a speech by Deputy Emilio Sanchez Piedras before parliamentary delegates from 25 countries. The luncheon was being given by the Mexican congress.

The U. S. legislators became aroused when Sanchez Piedras told a special session of congress that "justice assists the noble people of Cuba."

Kicked Up Storm
Sanchez Piedras kicked up a storm several weeks ago by rallying to Cuba's defense in her dispute with the United States. He said at that time, after the Mexican government shied away from backing him up, that he was speaking only for himself.

He drew applause yesterday when he declared: "In the present hours when a sister republic carries out a popular revolution to attain social justice and seeks a way to enjoy liberty and economic independence, we Mexicans declare without reserve that justice assists the noble people of Cuba."

The three American legislators accused Sanchez Piedras of implying that the Cuban people were trying to "free themselves from outside forces as sinister as those of Nazism, Fascism and Francoism."

The speaker left the clear impression, they said in a formal statement, "that this outside influence was the United States. Until the position of our government has been clarified we felt it would be improper for us to attend the luncheon."

Havana Press
The congressmen said the text of Sanchez Piedras' speech had been sent to Sec. of State Christian A. Herter, due here today to head the U. S. delegation at the anniversary celebration.

In Havana, the government-controlled press said today that Fidel Castro is viewed by Latin-Americans in New York, Texas, New Mexico and California as the "leader of their aspirations."

That's the reason, Cubans were told, that the United States government has ordered the prime minister to stay within the confines of Manhattan island while attending the UN general assembly.

Dr. Clarence Schilt, Silver Spring, Md., said Mitchell discussed homosexuality, antagonism to his family, atheism and other matters, but gave no hint that he was on the verge of betraying his trust and defecting to Russia.

Dr. Schilt told a newsmen he did not think Mitchell was being blackmailed. "I kind of think it was an intellectual decision," he said. He just here, devoted six of his eight pages to Toure's visit. This was more attention than Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev got on his visit to Peking last year.

Claims Reds Would Not Hesitate to Launch Surprise Nuclear Blow

Former Soviet Naval Officer Tells Of Russian's Military Doctrine

Washington —P— Russian it was spelled out in a Soviet leaders would not hesitate to military publication available launch a surprise nuclear at only to high-ranking officers.

Surprise Attack
He said he had not himself seen any directives ordering preparations for such a surprise assault on this nation. But he added:

"I know of general, broad statements which tended to prepare the Soviet officer corps for the possibility of being ordered to make a surprise attack."

He said "no senior Soviet officer believes that the United States would attack first." Under questioning, Artamonov confirmed western suspicions that the Soviet fishing trawlers frequently seen near U.S. waters are spying, not fishing. He said the vessels always are operated and manned by agents of Soviet naval intelligence.

Favored Treatment
He said his own defection to the west was not motivated by "foreign intelligence" agents or hope of personal or material gain.

"On the contrary," he said, "I was given favored treatment by the Soviet authorities and had a bright future ahead of me."

He said his final disillusionment came in 1957 when Khrushchev first praised Marshal Georgi Zhukov, the Soviet war hero, and three months later fired him from his post.

Artamonov said the Kremlin leadership is composed of "power seekers, not political idealists."

Gradual Disillusionment
The 32-year-old Russian spent most of his time telling of his Soviet-style education and of a gradual disillusionment with Soviet leaders.

He said he had been in the United States since shortly after he fled to the west, working with U.S. agencies he did not name.

He said he lives now in New York City, at an undisclosed address, without guards or any form of protection from communist retaliation.

Despite Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's repeated pronouncements favoring disarmament, Artamonov said, the Soviet doctrine of a surprise attack has been official since February, 1955. He said

FARMERS NEEDED FOR VICTORY

The farmer is the backbone of his country in peace and in war. It has been stated that aside from guns, ammunition, and man power, food will win the war. A great general once said that an army marches on its stomach.

Being such a vital part in the machinery for victory, the farmer can readily see how important it is to keep working. The first requirement to maintain a full time work program is good health.

Chiropractic adjustments help to get you well and keep you well. Chiropractic is not only good for back trouble, but other conditions as well. Among the most common responding to adjustments are rheumatism, headaches, stomach disorders, heart ailments and bowel trouble.

Lawrence Registration Shows Educational Battle of Bulge

Largest Peace-Time Frosh Class Comes From 32 States, 9 Nations

Education's biggest battle enrollments attained such a solid academic achievement to the campus. A normal faith of the bulge was reflected in peak. Education's biggest battle enrollments attained such a solid academic achievement to the campus. A normal faith of the bulge was reflected in peak. Education's biggest battle enrollments attained such a solid academic achievement to the campus. A normal faith of the bulge was reflected in peak.

Episcopalians are the strongest denominations in this particular freshman class, with 55 students each, followed by 45 Congregationalists, 44 Presbyterians, and 36 of both Lutherans and Roman Catholics. There are smaller numbers of Baptist, Christian Scientist, Evangelical, Unitarian, Russian Orthodox, Jewish, Plymouth Brethren, United Church of Christ, Bible Church, and Pentecostal.

Three of the newcomers bring a first-hand knowledge of the diplomacy with them. Lucy Ann Plunkett was recently of Havana where her father was vice president of an electric company before Castro expelled American business interests. Gary Campbell comes from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where his father is in the embassy, and Eiichi Furukawa of Nagano City, Japan, has been sent to Lawrence by the Japanese foreign service to perfect his English and acquaint him with American customs. He is the second Japanese diplomatic trainee in recent years to be assigned to Lawrence. Another student, Richard Lampert, is the son of a brigadier general stationed in Alexandria, Va.

Threat to Record
With the enrollment of Martin Matter of Menasha comes the first serious threat to Appleton's famed Buesing clan's Most - Siblings - To Attend-Lawrence championship. Seven Buesings have graduated from Lawrence; Martin is the sixth of his family to attend. Those coming before were Richard, Kenneth, Gerald, James and Janet.

A significant number of educators have again chosen Lawrence for their children this year. Among the newcomers are Jeremy Jackson, whose father is professor of history at the University of Miami, Fla.; Mary Ellen Wolfe, whose father teaches at the University of Florida in Gainesville; Susan Vance, whose father is chairman of the mathematics department at Oberlin; David Morton, whose father is professor of history at Dartmouth; and Hugh Smith, whose father is dean of students at Bowling Green State in Ohio.

Students who have Lawrence in their backgrounds are Jane Dillon, Appleton, whose father, Ade, has been on the Lawrence coaching staff; Andrew Darling, son of Dr. Stephen F. Darling, professor of chemistry; John van den Akker, Los Angeles, Calif., whose uncle Johannes is at the Institute of Paper Chemistry; and Edward Jones III, whose father is also at the institute.

Parents Came, Too
Even though more parts of the world now send students to Lawrence, more of Lawrence's own alumni send their children back to go to their college as well. Thirty-five freshmen were preceded at Lawrence by either one or two parents.

On the 2-parent list are Susan Bayer, Merrill, daughter of Dr. Lester and Gertrude Smith Bayer, both '27; Julia Biggers, Menasha, daughter of Hayward, '31, and Julia Ludwig Biggers, '32 and granddaughter of the W. A. Ladwigs, who attended Lawrence in the 1890s; Barbara Iseley, Deerfield, Ill., daughter of Christian, '38, and Ruth Perry Iseley, '39; (her two grandparents, Christian and Jessie Crossfield Iseley graduated in '12 and '13 respectively); Judith Ann Schmidt, Hinsdale, Ill., daughter of Paul and Katherine Pitman Schmidt, both '39; John Bartholomew, Colorado Springs, son of John '38, and Dorothy Houck Bartholomew, '39; and Michael O'Neil Wauwatosa, son of Robert and Rasey O'Neil, both '38, and grandson of Lee and Mable Hill Rasey, both '13.

Early Students
Among the 29 freshmen who were preceded at Lawrence by one parent, are the following from this area: Ann Coerper Neenah whose mother, Ann Elwell Coerper has recently been a special student; Bonnie Laird, Green Bay, whose mother is Dorothy Brenner Laird, '34; Susan Lindow, Gillett, daughter of Jane Lindsay Lindow, '37; Anne Pinkerton, Waupaca, daughter of Kenneth, '31; Pamela Smith, New London, daughter of Iris Knoke Smith, '28; Stephen John, Appleton, son of Marion Towne John, '38; and Edward Jones III, whose father Edward received his Ph. D. from the Institute of Paper Chemistry in '49.

Norman Morris, Russellville, Ala., comes from a line of Norths and Brokaws who attended Lawrence in the late 19th century and early 20th. His great-grandparents were David '83, and Elizabeth Nelson North, '89, his grandparents are Norman '13 and Theodore North Brokaw, '14, of Appleton, and another great-grandfather, Norman H. Brokaw, is the person for whom Brokaw hall is named.

"Now... every Krambo store manager gives you his personal-word guarantee"

... announces Mr. L. P. Martin, Vice President, Wisconsin Division, Kroger Company. "Everything you buy at Krambo is guaranteed," says Mr. Martin. "Look for this guarantee on your cash register slip."

You've read and heard about guarantees all your life. Somehow, most of them seem remote... full of loopholes. You say to yourself, "I bet it'd take a Philadelphia lawyer to collect."

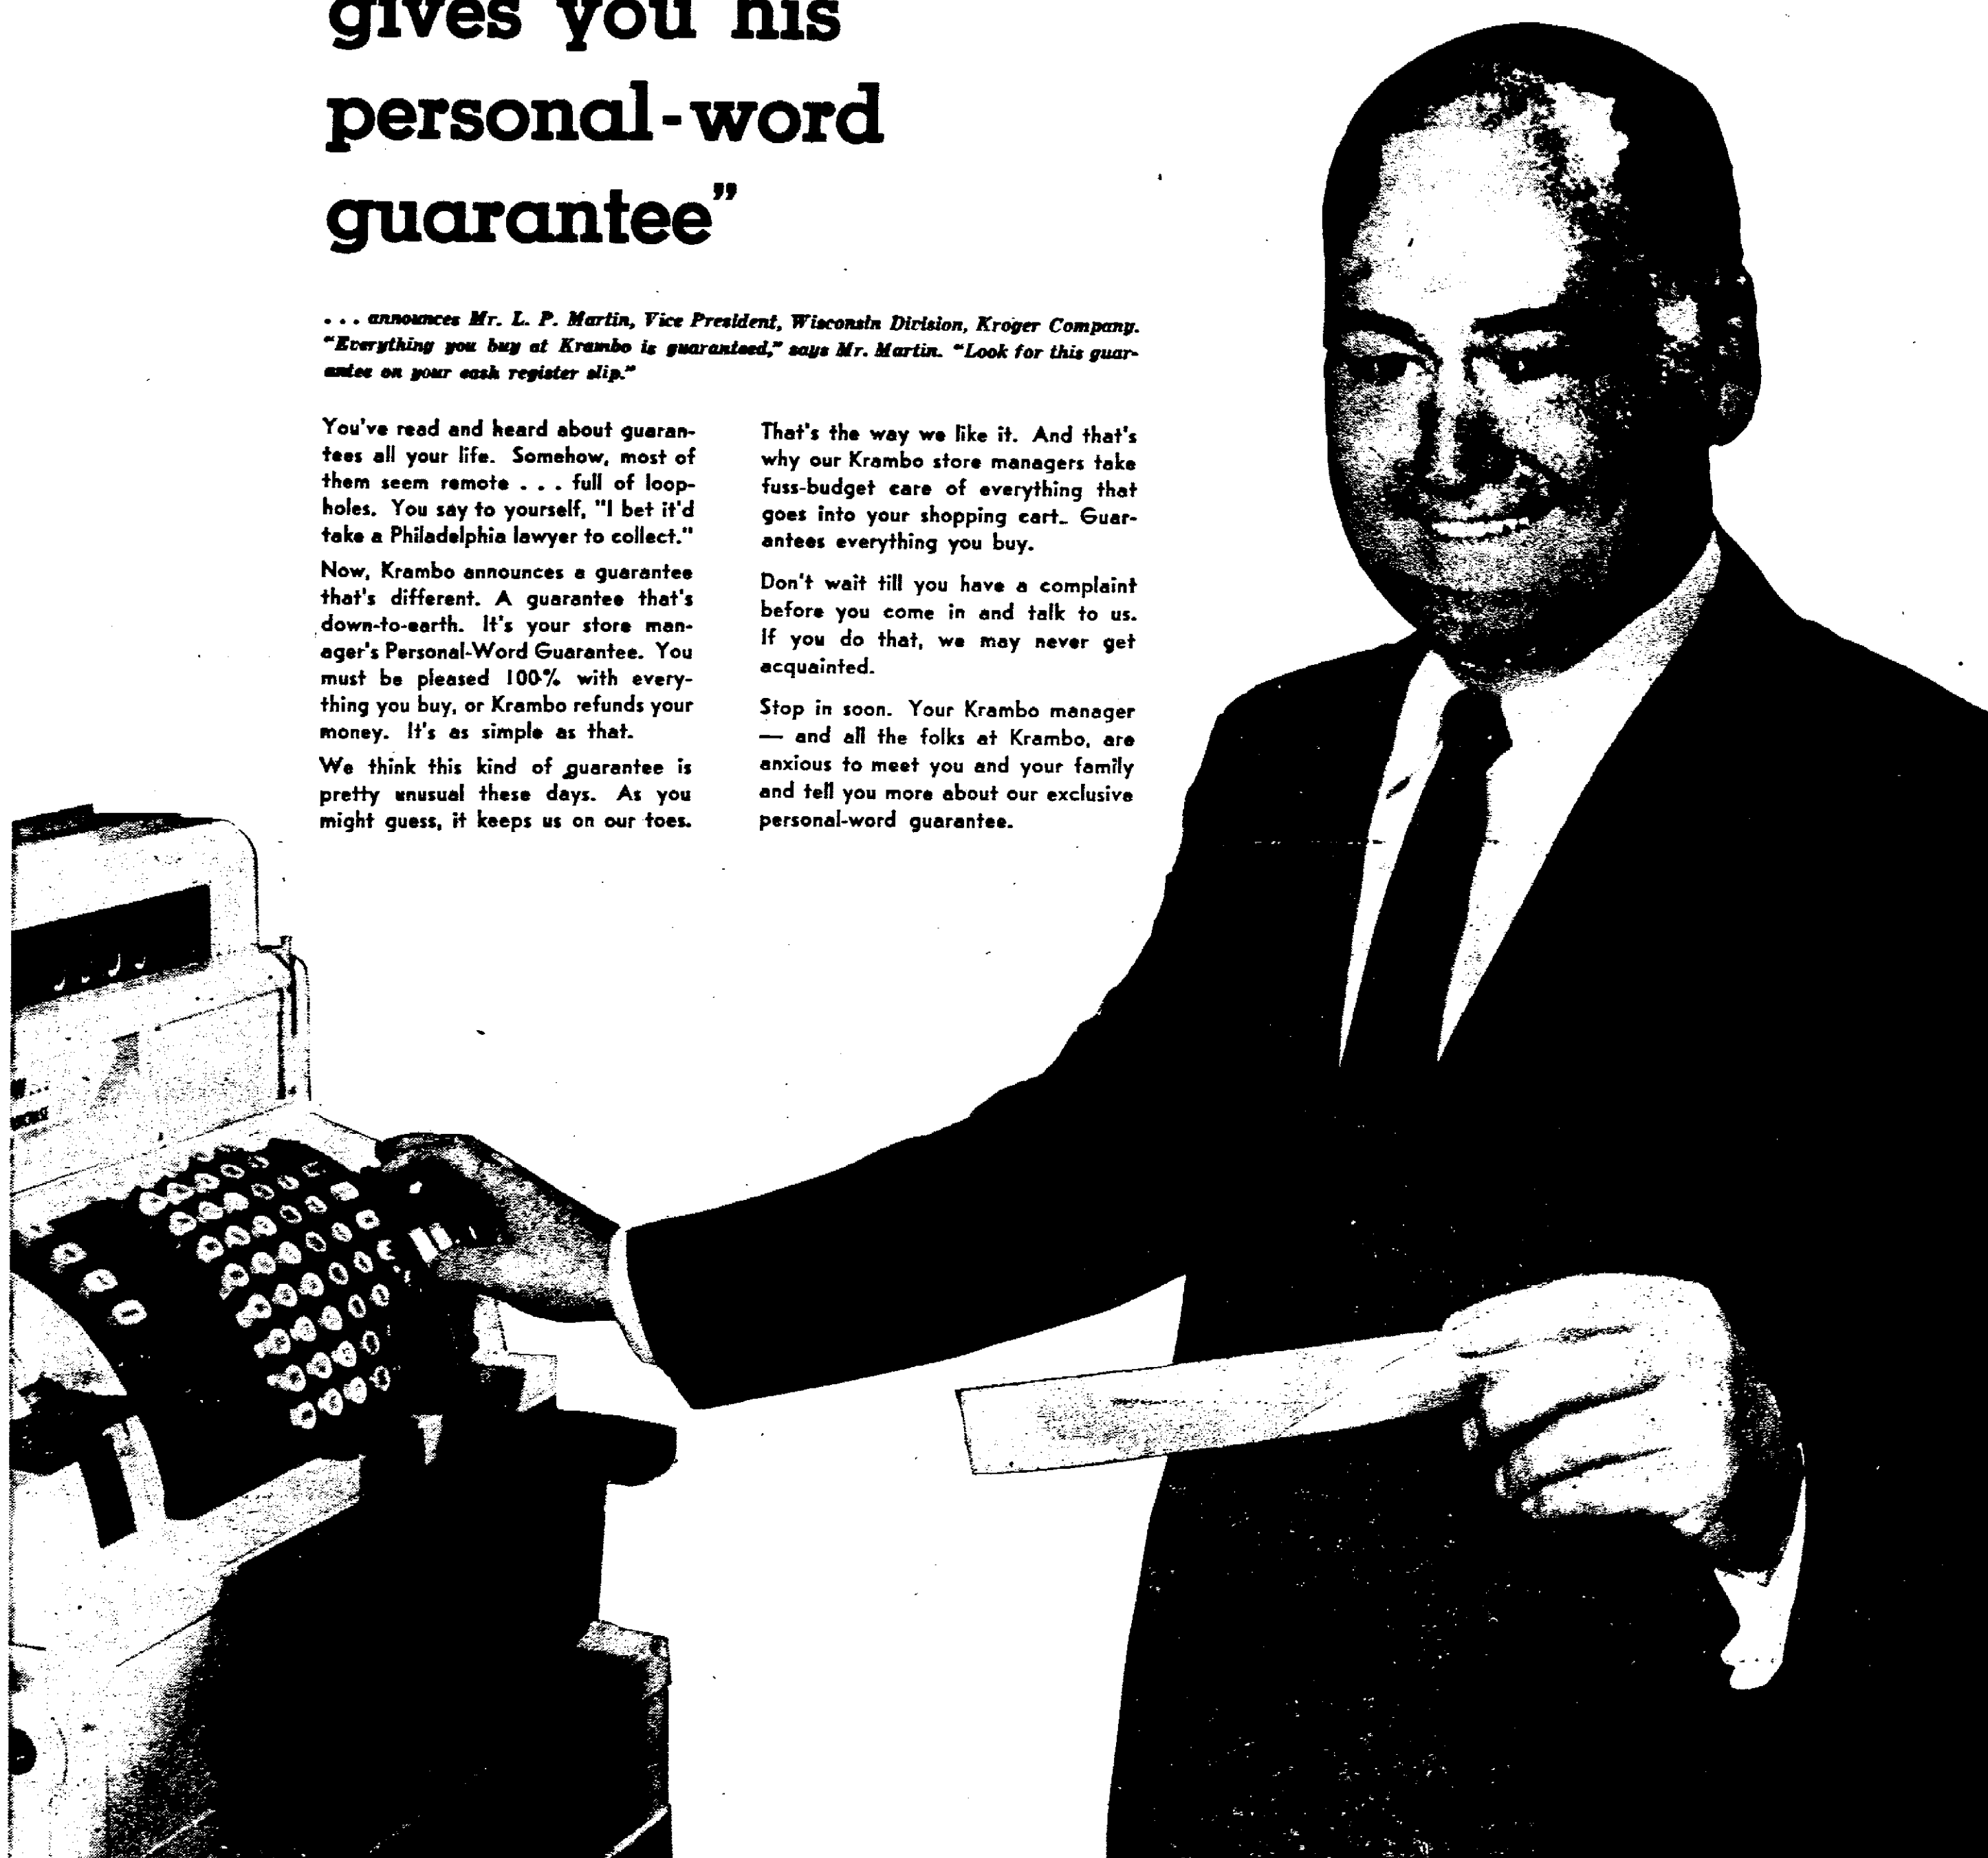

Now, Krambo announces a guarantee that's different. A guarantee that's down-to-earth. It's your store manager's Personal-Word Guarantee. You must be pleased 100% with everything you buy, or Krambo refunds your money. It's as simple as that.

We think this kind of guarantee is pretty unusual these days. As you might guess, it keeps us on our toes.

That's the way we like it. And that's why our Krambo store managers take fuss-budget care of everything that goes into your shopping cart. Guarantees everything you buy.

Don't wait till you have a complaint before you come in and talk to us. If you do that, we may never get acquainted.

Stop in soon. Your Krambo manager — and all the folks at Krambo, are anxious to meet you and your family and tell you more about our exclusive personal-word guarantee.

Lumumba and Castro

The question of whether men such as Patrice Lumumba of the Congo and Fidel Castro of Cuba are actual agents of the Comintern is becoming largely academic. The important fact is that these men who have recently come into power in strategically-located countries have wasted little time, after gaining control of the political machinery of those countries, in proffering a friendly hand to Moscow and even Peking, welcoming hordes of communist "technicians" to their capitals and generally making it clear that they are not only neutral in the cold war but consider the communist empire a more dependable Big Brother than the United States and its allies.

Back in the 1930's the communists' favorite weapon for taking over a country was the Popular Front which took advantage of the naivete of democratic political leaders of that era — the attitude that the communists were "just another political party." Immediately after World War II Stalin and his aides, faced with a weak-willed Truman administration in this country and Atlee regime in Great Britain, were able to launch actual military adventures, as in Korea and Indo-China. The coming to power of the Eisenhower-Dulles team in 1953 choked off that kind of aggression, and the communist masters had to rely once again upon infiltration.

The old Popular Front technique would not work again, however. Even the most starry-eyed leaders in democratic countries had, by the middle 1950's come to the realization that giving communists important posts in a government simply amounted to a prelude to a Red coup d'état. It is perfectly logical to assume that the communist strategists searched around for another technique and came up with the careful nurturing of popular leaders in revolutionary situations whom they could put into positions of authority that amount to dictatorships. It is a neat strategy, for the communists end up running a country from the top without going through the messy business of a coup d'état or the even messier and embarrassing resort to military aggression.

Thus whether Castro and Lumumba are themselves communists is not important. They are communist tools and they are in power in their countries, and that is all that is needed.

Some weeks ago we commented that this country's policies in the cold war during the last eight years have been basically defensive, and we pointed out that even the best defense always has weak spots which an alert enemy can discover by careful probing. The communists' utilization of Castros and Lumumbas must be checked, and presumably we will find a way to check it. But is that enough? Why don't we have our own Castros and Lumumbas — men able to assume leadership in these revolutions that are taking place in underdeveloped countries and who are devoted to the ideals and institutions of western democratic societies? These ideals and institutions are still the most truly revolutionary in the world today, if we would only realize it ourselves and proclaim it to the world.

The battle for men's minds goes on at an ever-increasing pace, and despite the tremendous reservoir of good will and admiration for our kind of society that apparently exists in all countries we still do not seem to be able to make any headway against the disciplined robot forces of communist totalitarianism. We must go on the offensive, somehow.

No Sour Grapes

Avery Brundage, the perpetual president of the International Olympic Committee, has muttered that "soft living" was the cause of the United States not winning the most points in the Rome games. He also has suggested that this country get involved in some sort of a government sponsored athletic program so we can compete with the Russians, whom he steadfastly refuses to acknowledge as professionals.

Meanwhile, Arthur Daley, New York Times sports editor, has found another source for all the Olympic problems. It's the women who have been permitted, not only to attend and lend obvious distractions for the serious male athletes, but even to compete.

It wasn't that way in the days of the Greeks, says Mr. Daley, who divulges that the Greek gods denied women the right to watch the games and dumped any curious types over a high cliff onto jagged rocks. But today the women are everywhere and Mr. Daley takes a dim view of track suits and muscles. The Russians, it seems, would just as soon limit the games to the women competitors since Russian women don't mind bulging thighs and perspiration running down the face.

It seems to us that both Mr. Brundage and Mr. Daley are off the beam. The Americans looked pretty good considering that they must compete against the Iron Curtain crews who throw races to juggle standings and follow the Communist line of honor and truth which has little relation to that of the original Olympic intent.

And where would the US be without its women competitors? There was not only the amazingly fast team of Tigerbelles from Tennessee State with Wilma Rudolph the effective anchor girl, but there were some other gold medal winners like Chris Van Salza, Lynn Burke and Carolyn Schuler who look pretty good in Paris fashions or tank suits. And even the Russian women looked glamorous in gymnastic costumes.

Physically there was no soft living evident among the American competitors. And somehow we would rather come from a nation which sent the 14-year-old youngster from California who almost drowned in a turn and could resort to human tears in disappointment and humiliation.

If the Greeks had a word for this hoo-ha, it probably would be "baloney!"

Bear's Paw in the Door

The Soviet Union almost caught other members of the Security Council, particularly those in the western hemisphere, napping last week. The Russian delegate to the United Nations dug up Article 53 of the UN Charter and attempted to apply it to the Organization of the American States. On the surface the Russian resolution sounded innocent enough, but there was the usual gimmick lurking underneath.

Article 53 states that "no enforcement action shall be taken under regional arrangements or by regional agencies without the authorization of the Security Council." Recalling that the OAS censured the government of the Dominican Republic and agreed to economic restrictions against it, the Soviet delegate offered a resolution that the Security Council approve of the move by the OAS.

Delegates from the United States, Argentina and Ecuador were quick to see exactly what Russia was after — a veto voice in the affairs of this hemisphere. The Argentinian ambassador pointed out that Article 53 had not been carefully interpreted as yet but he assumed that "enforcement" meant military action. No one outside the western hemisphere was concerned, he continued, after declaring he would not go into shadowy motives for the Russian resolution.

James Wadsworth, the new United States ambassador to the UN, pointed out that no OAS member had requested such a resolution or saw any need for it. England's representative also agreed there was no need for Security Council action except to take note of the OAS move.

Obviously the Russians had seen a new way of getting a foot in the door to follow the grasping hands reaching out to Cuba. If the OAS should get around to throwing up economic barriers to trade with Cuba in retaliation for Castro's totalitarian methods, Russia could veto Security Council approval of such action if a precedent had been set in interpreting Article 53 as the Russians now want. Any economic sanctions established by NATO or SEATO could be equally hamstrung.

There will be charges by the Russians that the other members of the Security Council really don't want to establish economic sanctions against the dictator in the Dominican Republic. But it would seem that the other members have their eyes wide open. They have to, every minute.

How Long in a Hospital?

One of those many surveys that government bureaus take has come up with some inexplicable information concerning hospital stays which might, in the long run, save all of us some money.

The survey was undertaken by Medicare, the program of federally paid medical care for dependents of servicemen, much of which is handled by civilian hospitals. In every type of treatment or operation, hospital stays were longer on the east coast than in the west and the time decreased practically with the mileage westward. The average stay in New England is 6.9 days while that of the Far West is only 4.8 days. People who have appendectomies in New England under the Medicare program stay in the hospital an average of 7.5 days, along the Great Lakes 6.5 days, while those near the Pacific go home after only 5.1 days.

The authorities say the difference does not appear to be due to a shortage of hospital facilities, to an emphasis in some regions upon the get-up-and-walk philosophy or even to California's climate. The economic factor is small since the cost is borne by the government. But for some reason doctors in the east seem to advise hospital rest for longer periods than doctors in the west or maybe patients in the east are more content to lie in bed awhile than those in the west.

Perhaps it is really just an example of the conservatism of New England which extends even to illness, and to the existence still of the restless, impatient energy which drove people west in the first place. But if the go-home-sooner idea should start spreading back across the country, the taxpayers could save some money.

Our Ambassador to U.N. Should Have Place in President's Cabinet

From New York Herald Tribune

The United Nations has grown to such global importance that this country's official representative to it should be treated accordingly, which means investiture with the most impressive mantle of authority and all the diplomatic status in the president's power to bestow.

It is sometimes forgotten that Henry Cabot Lodge is more than a United States representative to the United Nations in New York. He is also a member of President Eisenhower's cabinet in Washington.

As such, he raised the position of the U. S. representative to a new and higher level. By holding a dual position and wearing two hats — ambassador and member of the cabinet — Mr. Lodge participated in shaping foreign policy and consequently his voice rang with an additionally authoritative tone in his dealings with other representatives of the world of nations.

His twin position may have had a somewhat accidental genesis — and obviously one partly motivated by politics — as his seat in the cabinet was an added reward for Mr. Lodge's successful services as Mr. Eisenhower's close adviser and campaign manager. But Mr. Lodge ably proved the wisdom of the added rank. He wore his two hats not as ornaments but as valid insignia of his spokesmanship for administration and country.

He not only pioneered a new policy effectively but proved that it is the best policy for the future. But now that Mr. Lodge is leaving his U. N. post to seek the vice presidency, the position of U. S. envoy will lose cabinet rank and revert to its former single function unless proper steps are taken.

The office of ambassador at the U. N. is peculiarly different from that of other diplomatic posts. The person who holds it is accredited not to an individual country, as most ambassadors, but, in a sense, to all these individual countries taken collectively and constituting the world organization of the United Nations. That raises the office of ambassador to the U. N. far above that of the regular diplomatic post.

In view of the increasing significance of the image which the United States presents to the world as a whole, we should keep our U. N. representation at the higher level to which it was raised under Mr. Lodge and invest it permanently with cabinet rank.

In our opinion Ambassador James J. Wadsworth is eminently qualified as a diplomat to succeed Mr. Lodge at the United Nations. He is qualified as well to inherit the cabinet rank of his predecessor.

But these are matters for President Eisenhower, or perhaps his successor, to decide. The question is not one of personality, but of principle. And the principle is that whoever is named to be the permanent representative of the United States to the United Nations should be a man of unusual stature, as fully trained for cabinet membership as for membership in the world body of nations. And such a man should be armed with all the diplomatic weapons in the president's arsenal, including a cabinet post.

Anything less than maximum power and prestige will mean less than maximum performance as this country's spokesman in the United Nations.

Looking Backward

Passenger's Account of Disaster

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 15, 1860.

(This is a portion of the testimony of a Mr. Jervis before the coroner's jury on the sinking of the Great Lakes steamer Lady Elgin off Waukegan Sept. 8, 1860.)

"I was on board the Lady Elgin at the time of the late disaster. Just before the schooner (Augusta) struck, I was standing at the middle gangway on the main deck. I saw the schooner about two minutes before she struck; she appeared to be coming toward us at an angle of about 45 degrees.

"About a half minute before she struck I was afraid of a collision and left the middle gangway, passed round the engine room to the after gangway on the larboard side. When the schooner struck I was just behind the engine room; Capt. Wilson was in the after gangway when I got there. He asked someone on the schooner if all hands wanted to come on board the boat. The answer from the schooner was that they did not think they were injured and would stay where they were.

"The schooner was now dropping aft. She came so near that I could have jumped aboard. I saw a light on the schooner just before she struck, but saw none afterward.

"I went down into the coal bunker and saw that the water was coming in very fast. When I went over to the break, the steward was there trying to stop the leak with mattresses.

The captain stood at the edge of the scuttle ordering the men to fire up as fast as possible. He went aft and gave orders for everything that was loose, including the cattle, to be thrown overboard. The captain, when I next saw him, was coming from the bow; he ordered the men near him to get axes and stave open every state room.

"The captain did all he could to have all the ladies and other passengers go to the hurricane roof. I carried my wife up after she would not go and my sister-in-law followed. Capt. Wilson asked me to help bring up more ladies. I think we got up from 20 to 25. The men came up pretty fast on the other side.

"Some man on deck asked Capt. Wilson if he was going to leave the wreck. A lady also asked him if he was going to leave them. Capt. Wilson replied in substance, 'No, I will go down with you.'

The boat went down about two minutes afterward.

Defaults in Assembly Show GOP Weakness

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Two recent incidents have pointed up again the strong two party alignment in state politics.

The Democrats for the first time in their history have filed a complete slate of candidates for the state legislature.

The Republicans have shown a dangerous weakness in defaulting in some 15 assembly districts, although there will be an effort made to qualify write-in candidates in some of them.

Meanwhile the first of the campaign finance reports filed by the candidates show that Philip Kuehn, the Republican candidate for governor, and Gov. Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic candidate for reelection, are starting out on a nearly even footing as far as their personal campaign funds are concerned.

A relative equality of financial resources between the parties is about as unusual, in recent Wisconsin experience, as a Democratic superiority in candidates for the legislature. There can no longer be any doubt that the two party system has been permanently reestablished in this state.

MONEY IN POLITICS

The Democrats of Wisconsin have talked with a poor mouth, as the colloquialism has it, for so long that there has grown up an erroneous impression of the comparative financing of the parties.

Recent Democratic campaigns have been reasonably well financed. All the signs indicate, moreover, that with their victories of 1958 and their prospects for the future, the Democratic financiers are finding collections relatively easy today — in some districts a good deal easier than do the Republicans.

There are indications also that the Democrats are going about the business of financing with a disciplined realism. The contributions from Democratic state office-holders, of all ranks, are suggestive of the style. The substantial assistance of labor unions also represents an asset that the Republicans cannot equal, although it is obvious that the typical Republican candidate can get more individual donations than can the representative Democrat.

Perhaps more fundamentally important is the default of the Republicans in nearly a sixth of the assembly districts, and the ability of the Democrats to field aspirants — however nominal — in all of them. To a considerable degree the legislature is the heart of the state political system. A party cannot win in a district where it does not compete.

MOMENTUM

There now are key territories in which the Republicans have virtually defaulted — such as downtown Milwaukee.

The failure of the party to file candidates there is not significant in terms of winning assemblymen. There is no slightest chance for the recovery this year of some of the powerfully held Democratic seats in Milwaukee, or in Madison and a few of the other larger voting centers.

But there isn't much chance for some of the Democrats in many of the historically Republican out-state districts either, but the Democrats have managed to make an effort, nevertheless.

The effort is important because of the cumulative campaign effort of the individual candidates. The 15 defaulted seats on the Republican side mean the loss of 15 local campaigners, their relatives, their neighbors, their business associates. It is difficult to persuade a self-respecting man to make a campaign in a district he knows he cannot win, but the party that is able to mobilize the loyalists, nevertheless, is the party that has a higher spirit and in the long run will triumph.

Forest Report Encouraging, but Conservation Vital

From The Sheridan (Wyo.) Press

Conclusions of the third 5-year survey of the world's forests are encouraging. The survey reports that the annual reduction of cone-bearing forests from felling, fires and pests are still considerably less than the annual growth.

It is also reported that the forests of the world are theoretically capable of furnishing a plentiful flow of useful products for a population much higher than presently exists.

Although the report is encouraging, conservation of wood resources is still necessary for the day when world population and world supply meet as equals.

Norfolk Finally Becomes Hog-Free

Norfolk, Va. — Norfolk is now "hog-free." But it required some official effort. The city had to move hogs from its Halstead farm in territory annexed from Princess Anne county. A city ordinance prohibits hogs in the city limits.

Coastal Area Faces Threat Of Hurricane

civil defense officials said a conservative estimate of persons in shelters and private homes in southeast Louisiana was 31,000.

Residents of Louisiana's marshland country — in Lafourche, Jefferson, St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes (counties) — left without a second warning, undoubtedly recalling that hurricane Audrey left 500 dead and missing in 1957.

Officials along the Mississippi gulf coast said some 5,900 persons were in shelters at Biloxi, Pascagoula, Gulfport, Bay St. Louis and Ocean Springs. Refugees jammed hotels and motels as far away as Jackson, 200 miles from the coast.

Tides estimated at three feet above normal were lapping over Beach boulevard in Pascagoula, Miss., at 5 a.m.

Earlier heavier rains along the Mississippi coast began to let up, but winds began rising.

Flee to Shelters

An estimated 3,000 persons were in shelters in the Pascagoula area. They spent the night in churches, schools and even in some business establishments.

Police estimated more persons had left town and headed north away from the storm than were in the shelters.

Col. Soren Nelson, Mobile chairman, estimated that 6,500 spent the night in emergency shelters there.

Maynard Stitt, Escambia (Pensacola) county civil defense director, estimated that 7,000 persons took refuge in shelters in the county. Stitt said the total number of refugees might be several hundred more but there was no accurate total as they were in homes of relatives and friends.

The 13,000 military personnel at Eglin air force base, at Fort Walton beach were told to stay at home until after the hurricane passed.

The hurricane developed so quickly off the Yucatan peninsula deep in the gulf yesterday that many areas were caught unprepared.

South Korea Appoints New UN Ambassador

Seoul, Korea — Premier John M. Chang's government today appointed Dr. Channing Liem, longtime professor of political science in American schools, as South Korea's new ambassador to the United Nations.

Liem, 60, succeeds Ambassador Ben C. Limb who resigned after the April revolution against President Syngman Rhee. Liem did graduate work in Princeton university, was assistant professor of political science at Pennsylvania College for Women in Pittsburgh, now Chatham college and moved to Muskingum college in Ohio this year as professor of politics.

Kennedy Steps-Up Pace In Jersey Campaign

Tells Crowds U. S. Is Standing Still While Rest of World Advances

BY JACK BELL

Ideal with belligerent Russian leaders, Kennedy said: "The Russians understand strength. It is not a question of quarreling with Mr. Khrushchev. It is a question of making ourselves stronger change sweeping the world than Russia. Talk is cheap."

The Democratic presidential nominee pressed down the action. Kennedy hoped to steam celerator on the motorcade for campaign tour of politically-what he conceded will be the doubtful New Jersey with an difficult task of carrying the attack on Eisenhower administration policies he said are "losing the lead to Russia" in world affairs.

Picking Bergen Mall Shopping center in Paramus for this assault, Kennedy said in meeting of the Liberal party, a prepared address that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Premier Fidel B. Johnson of Texas, del Castro will bring the cold war to America's doorstep in the United Nations next week.

"Diplomatic Disasters"

"And yet the administration has told us that all is well," he said.

"In the 1930's while England slept, Hitler armed."

"Today, while we stand still, Khrushchev moves."

"We must learn to face the truth of our situation. You can't stand still in the eye of a hurricane. And hurricane winds of change are sweeping the world."

Kennedy said the summit collapse, the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan and hostile mobs in other parts of the world were "diplomatic disasters." To counter these, he said, the United States must rebuild its military strength.

Striking at Vice President Richard M. Nixon's contention that he is best equipped to shut down and the red diplomats expelled.

Mobutu told a news conference the army was taking over rule in the strife-torn young African republic until some solution is reached in the deadlocked power struggle between Kasavubu and Lumumba.

Mobutu called for full support from the United Nations in the sudden move and appealed for cooperation of Congolese and foreign technicians.

The army action was swift and peaceful. No violence has resulted as far as could be determined early today.

U.N. soldiers continued to patrol the streets.

Mobutu made clear that the army would cooperate closely with the United Nations, called in earlier by the government to maintain peace and order.

Continuous Strife

This old Belgian colony has been torn by political and civil strife since it was granted freedom June 30. One of the elements of the disorder has been the tendency of the undisciplined Congo army to mutiny and splinter into old tribal lines.

The army is regarded as the key, however, to the struggle between Lumumba and Kasavubu.

"All the army is with me," Mobutu told newsmen in a threadbare room in the Regina hotel.

Crowds of Kasavubu supporters marched through the sprawling African city demanding the arrest of Lumumba.

They carried placards accusing him of communism. Rhee. Liem did graduate work in Princeton university, was assistant professor of political science at Pennsylvania College for Women in Pittsburgh, now Chatham college and moved to Muskingum college in Ohio this year as professor of politics.

Home Surrounded

United Nations Ghana troops deployed along the broad Boulevard Albert, which cuts through the European part of the city. They donned steel helmets and placed their Bren machine guns in position. A cordon of Ghana troops surrounded the river bank residence of Lumumba. Trucks with squads of Ghana riot police stood by. Mobutu angrily denounced infiltration of the Congo by Russians and other communists in recent weeks.

He said seven "technicians" at Camp Leopold II, main garrison of the army in Leopoldville, had been found to be Soviet army officers.

They have been ordered expelled from the country immediately, Mobutu added. He held up a pamphlet containing recent speeches of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and said the pamphlets had been circulated among Congolese soldiers.

The seven Russians were supposed to be training soldiers in the maintenance of trucks and army cars.

Mobutu said an army guard would be thrown around the Russian and Czech embassies today and that the Russians, Czechs and "other socialists" who have poured into the country in recent weeks would be compelled to leave the country within 48 hours.

They had been invited in by Lumumba, who also received from the Soviet Union a small fleet of planes and trucks to transport troops in his struggle against political adversaries in Kasai and Katanga provinces.

Mobutu denied that the army's action was a military coup.

"The army does not want power," he said. "We are simply putting an end to politics until the end of the year."

Asked what had happened to Gen. Victor Lundula, the sergeant who became commander of the army under Lumumba, Mobutu said tersely: "He is in Camp Leopold."

Lundula, who cooperated with Lumumba, obviously had been swept aside.

Korea Observes 10th Anniversary of UN Landing at Inchon

Seoul, Korea — On the tenth anniversary of the historic Inchon landing of U.N. forces, South Korea today expressed thanks to her allies who helped defend the republic from communist aggression.

Premier John M. Chang said in a statement: "I am filled with deep emotion on this occasion that reminds me of the hardships and sacrifices suffered by the men and officers of the U.N. forces and the Republic of Korea crossed the highway and armed forces."

tional Federation of Republican Women.

Nixon had said in advance of his St. Louis speech that he would not seek the IAM convention's endorsement but that he hoped to "pick up a few votes" from the rank and file of the million-member union.

He said that 67 million Americans are working today, more than at any time in the history of the country and that under Eisenhower more schools and hospitals have been built than under the Truman administration or in any previous administration.

"I couldn't be 100 per cent for what the leaders of the junior chamber of commerce are for, or for the farmers," he said.

Nixon said that when he helped negotiate the settlement of the steel dispute neither side got all it wanted. "But the settlement was good for America and that's the test I'm going to follow all through my public career," he added.

Four Killed In Crash on State Road

Hartford — A grinding, head-on crash that collapsed the fronts of the two autos involved took the lives of four persons Tuesday. A fifth person was injured critically.

Killed in the crash near Holy Hill in Washington county were Michael Joseph Griffin, 68, Chicago; Mrs. Irene Kulik, 39, of West Allis; her 4-month-old son, Michael, and Mrs. Nora Woods, about 60, of Chicago.

Griffin, Mrs. Kulik and her son were found dead in the wrecked cars. Mrs. Woods died about four hours later in a hospital here. The baby's father, Philip, 39, remained in critical condition in St. Joseph's hospital here with chest and internal injuries.

Mrs. Kulik's body was found curled around that of her son, authorities said, in an apparent attempt to protect the child.

Investigating officers said Griffin's car, in which Mrs. Woods was a passenger, went out of control a short distance from the intersection of Highways 83 and 167 as he drove north. The southbound Kulik car swerved off the road on this occasion that repavement in an attempt to avoid a crash. The Griffin sacrifices suffered by the men auto pulled back onto the road from the shoulder, and the Republic of Korea crossed the highway and plowed into the Kulik car.

Admiral Faces Charge Of Smuggling Liquor

mess on Guam at tax-free prices.

The liquor was shipped in a metal container — labeled "Household Goods" — on the carrier Bon Homme Richard from Guam to San Francisco. The container, Constine said, was listed as carrying tables, books, wood carvings, chairs from the Philippines and a box of decorative glass. The attorney said the tables and chairs were inside, packed amid the 504 bottles. Admiral and Mrs. Erdmann already had returned home aboard the Korean Bear.

Federal agents who found the whisky at Erdmann's home said they also discovered 312 additional bottles of choice liquor behind a locked door leading to the admiral's private bar.

A tipster, reportedly an enlisted man, blew the whistle on the admiral.

The admiral's attorney, Richard J. MacLaury, said Erdmann has expressed willingness to pay the tax ever since the liquor was seized July 1.

If convicted, Erdmann faces maximum possible penalties of 12 years in prison and $35,000 in fines plus loss of his $12,150-a-year pension.

White Charged in Murder of Negro Man

Tampa, Fla. — A 21-year-old department store mail clerk faces first degree murder charges after being indicted for the "plastic bag" killing of a sleeping Negro man. James L. Webb was indicted Wednesday in the slaying of 33-year-old Jewell Leraim.

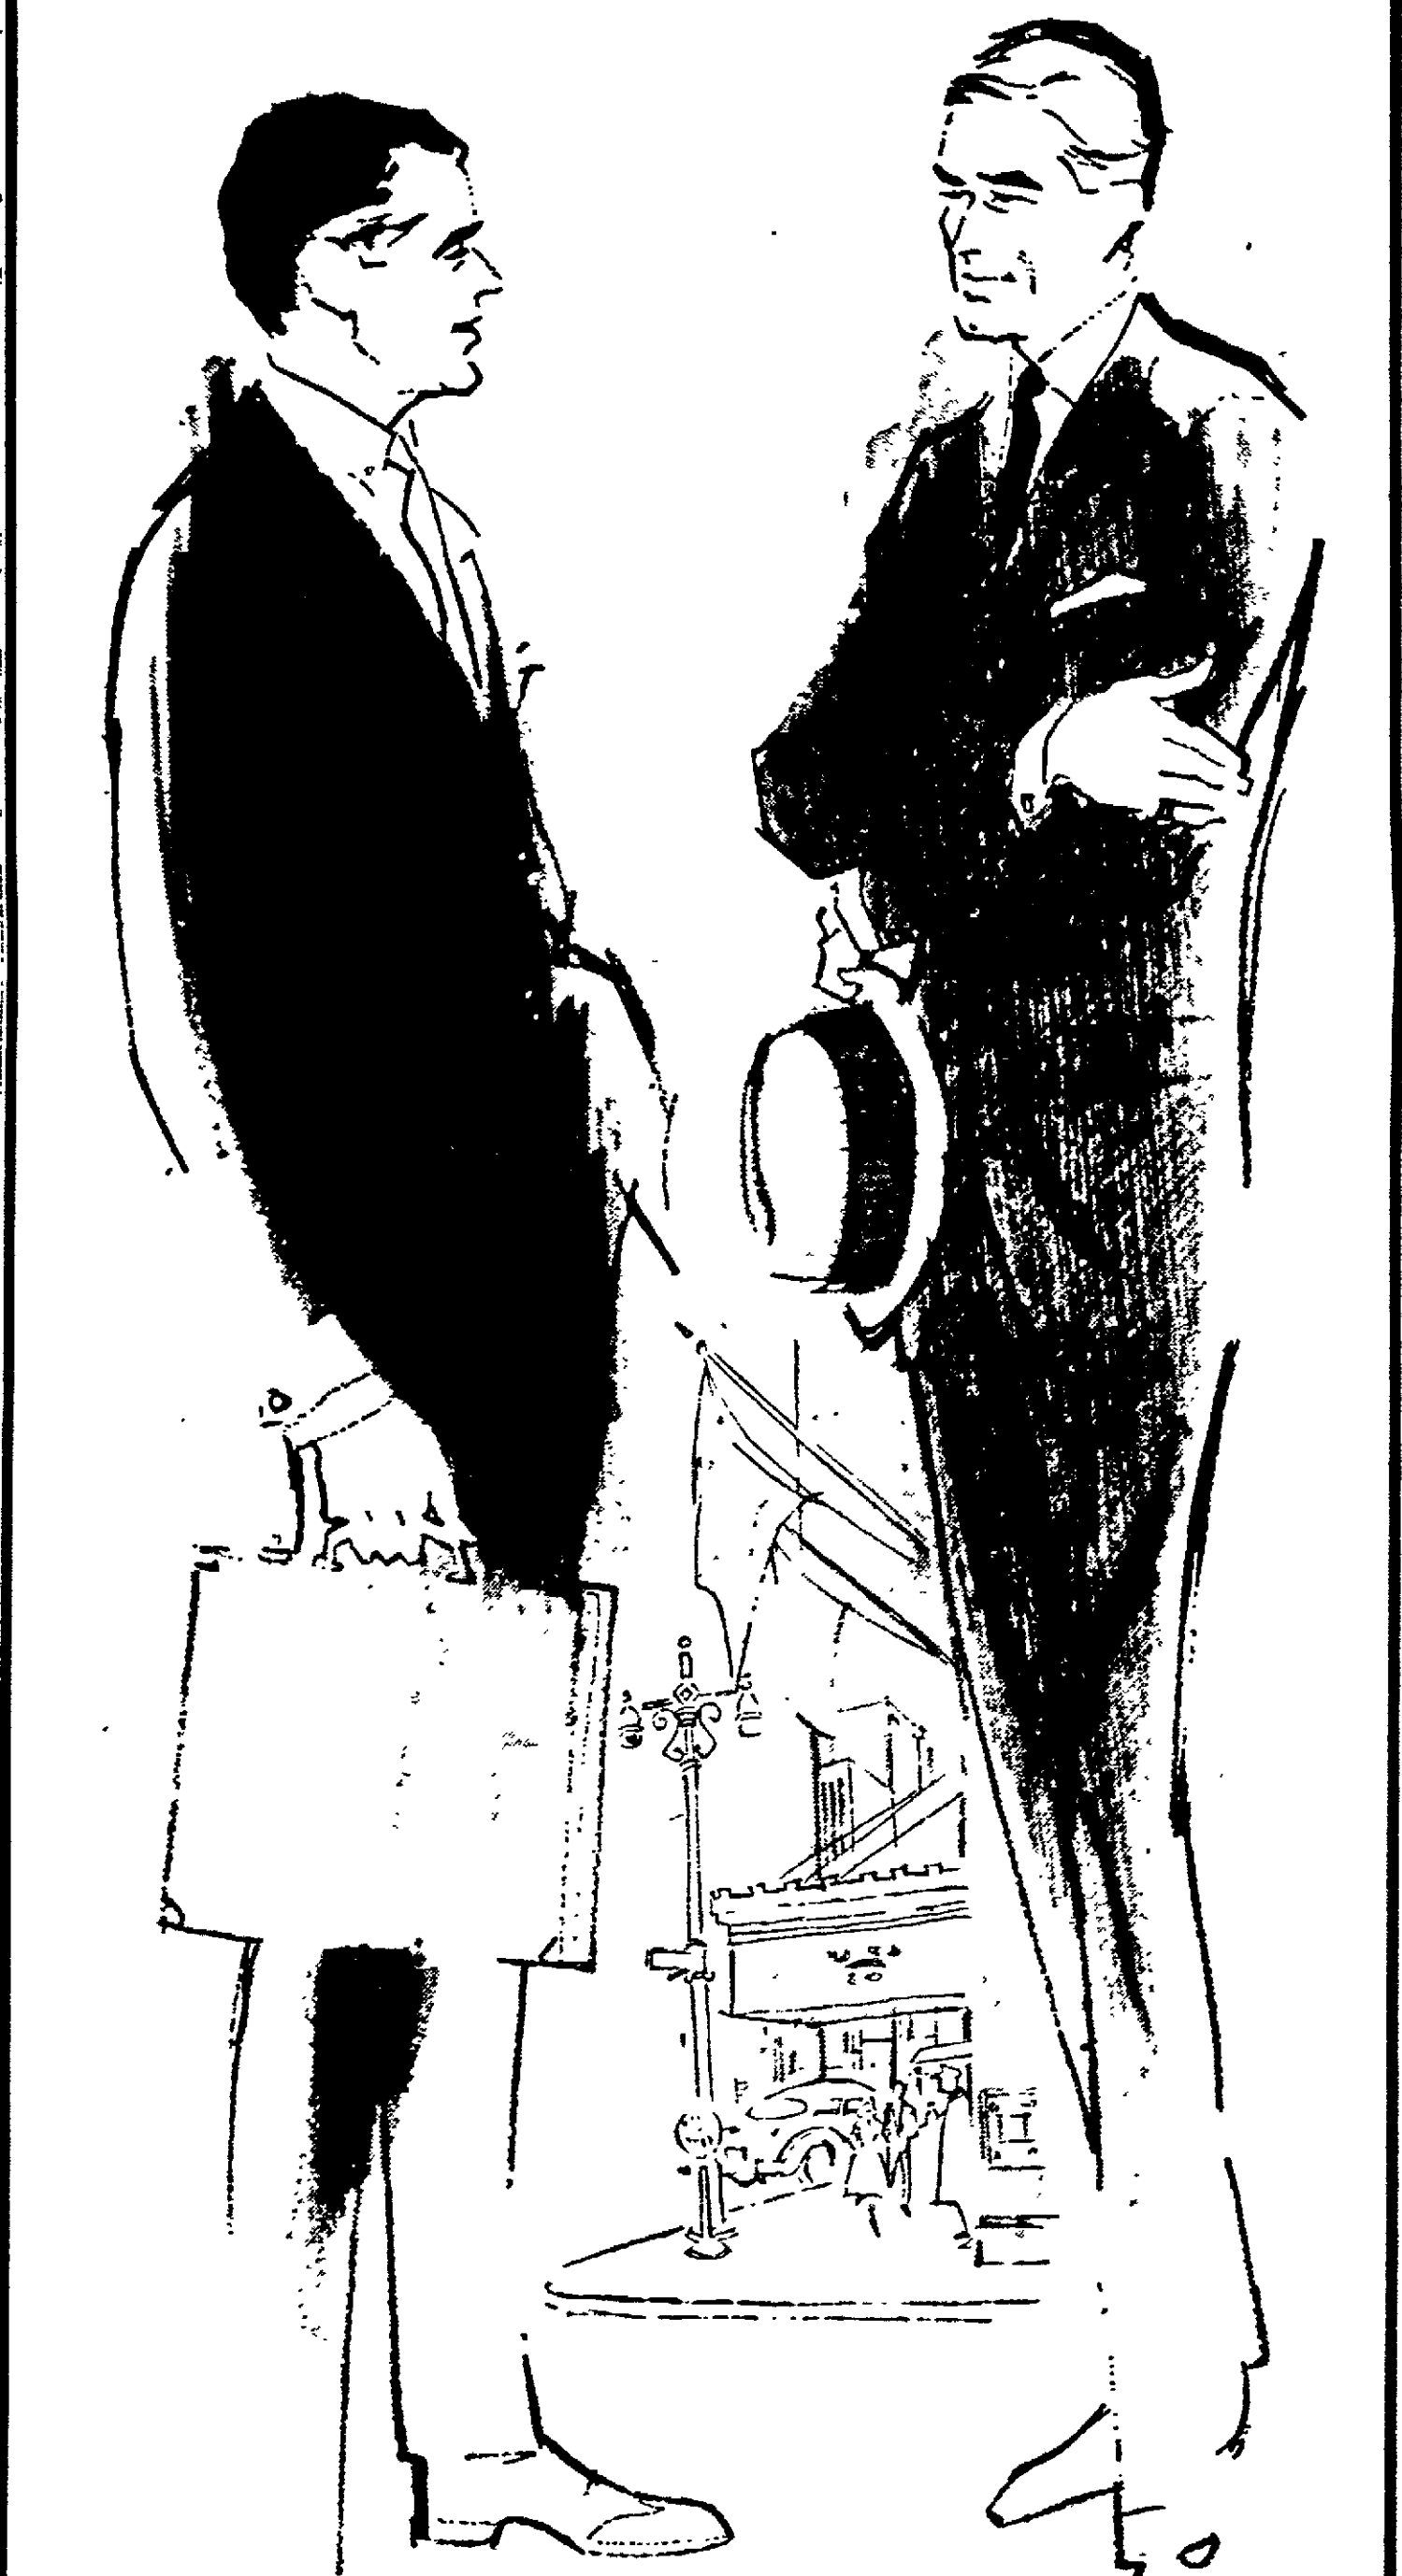

Police said Webb signed a confession but gave no explanation of his actions. Leraim was killed early Aug. 13 while sleeping in the seat of his car. His hands had been tied to his waist and a plastic bag taped around his neck.

Co-op Leader Attacks Laxity Of Farmers

Pure Milk Products Local Has Annual Appleton Meeting

Laxity of farmers in cooperative affairs and continued apathy in legislative matters was attacked by Paul Affeldt, Pure Milk Products cooperative president, Wednesday night.

In a talk before the Fox River Valley local, he pointed to the number of farmers taking time to go to cooperative meetings. A farmer will go to a chicken dinner when its free but won't vote or voice an opinion on some matter when he is notified about it, he said.

Farm Issues
Affeldt suggested the women's auxiliary be made a working part of the co-op. It could administer a youth program, he said.

The cooperative leader said farmers are willing to sit by and let farm programs fall by the wayside because a new secretary of agriculture may be coming along in five months. Farmers have lost faith in Ezra Taft Benson, he went on.

"We need a secretary who looks out for the farmers. We're sitting with no man supporting us in the cabinet."

It's hard for a congressman to work for farmers when only 40 out of 450 men in congress are interested in the farmer, he claimed. The decline of farm areas is causing a decline in truly agricultural representatives, he said.

"Don't condemn your congressman, no matter what party, for voting for five things you didn't want to get one you do want," Affeldt said. "He has to deal to get his programs. There is no cooperation between factions," he complained. Wheat growers get what they want and leave others to fight for themselves, he declared.

Pass Resolutions
"I shudder when I think of the change that might come in agriculture," Affeldt said. "There will be a time when the small number of farmers left are going to want something, then refuse to produce for the population until they get it," he said. One solution to the agriculture problem may be adoption of farm legislation that starts out and ends at the same time. All agriculture programs might be asked for at one time by all segments, he said.

The meeting killed a resolution to abolish all personal property taxes.

New Officers
Resolutions passed included a request that milk be served at all dinner meetings of PMPC and no federal controls or quotas be levied on production.

New local officers are Floyd Nelson, route 1, Neenah, president; Arnold Coenen, route 3, Kaukauna, vice president; and Sidney C. Rasmussen, route 1, Oshkosh, treasurer.

Delegates to the PMPC convention Oct. 24 and 25 at Fond du Lac are Nelson, Phillip Grundy, route 4, Oshkosh, Harold Miller, route 1, Neenah, and Henry S. Renn, route 4, Appleton. Alternates are Arnold Coenen, route 3, Kaukauna, and Leonard Koel-

Mock Bombardment Launches Sale of Commemorative Stamp

Baltimore —(AP)—Sales of a new, commemorative 4-cent stamp were launched yesterday, to the tune of a mock bombardment of Baltimore's Ft. McHenry.

The stamp, red and blue on white, honors Francis Scott Key, composer of the national anthem. The fourth in a series of six "credo" stamps, it represents the defense of Baltimore harbor against the British during the War of 1812.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield was on hand for the ceremony. The new stamp, like all commemoratives, is expected to net the government $20-$30 million.

Two Named Trustees of Institute

John R. Kimberly, Dwight L. Stocker Get 5-Year Terms

John R. Kimberly, chairman of the board of Kimberly-Clark corporation, and Dwight L. Stocker, president of KVP Sutherland Paper company, have been elected to 5-year terms as trustees of the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

The men were elected Tuesday at the 31st annual membership meeting at the Institute.

They will replace Howard W. Morgan, vice president of Weyerhaeuser company, and Alexander Calder, Jr., president of Union Bag-Camp Paper corporation. Trustees are not eligible to succeed themselves.

Karl Stansbury, former chairman of the board of Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, was reelected to a 1-year term as ex-officio trustee. Stansbury has served in this capacity since 1946 as the Lawrence college nominee.

Other trustees are William R. Adams, president of St. Regis Paper company; D. K. Brown, Neenah; William H. Chisholm, president, Oxford Paper company; Mr. R. C. Doane, president, International Paper company; P. H. Glatfelter III, president, P. H. Glatfelter company; Dr. Ward D. Harrison, president, Allied Paper corporation; Dr. Douglas M. Knight, president of Lawrence college; A. B. Layton, Crown Zellerbach corporation; David L. Luke, president, West Virginia Pulp and Paper company; M. C. McDonald, president, Great Northern Paper company; Ernst Mahler, Neenah; Mr. Stanton W. Mead, president of Consolidated Water Power and Paper company; John L. Riegel, chairman of the board of Riegel Paper corporation; P. F. Watzek, president, Crosssett Paper Mills; H. E. Whitaker, chairman of the board of the Mead corporation; John G. Strange, president of the Institute of Paper Chemistry, and W. Irving Osborne, Jr., chairman of the board of Cornell Paperboard Products company who serves as chairman of the board of trustees. Mahler and Brown are founding Trustees.

They make up the department's Class B team, and shot 1,126 of a possible 1,200 to take the trophy. From left they are Sgts. Donald Pekarske and John Van Bommel, Lt. John Gosch and Patrolman Earl Jackson. Jackson took third in individual shooting with a 287 out of a possible 300, losing by 1 point to the first and second place shooters. About 90 Wisconsin policemen participated, all on their own time at their own expense.

U. S. Health Plan to Have Little Effect

Needy Already Cared for in State, Welfare Head Says

Green Bay —(AP)—The federal medical care plan for the needy aged will have little effect on the present Wisconsin program, Wilbur Schmidt, director of the state department of public welfare, said here. Such recipients in Wisconsin now receive all the medical aid they require.

He added, however, that the program will mean over $2.5 million more in federal funds to the state annually.

Schmidt said that another phase of the federal program, on a matching basis, provides medical coverage for aged persons in the needy category or on assistance rolls. He said that the state will have to determine how far it wants to go with this phase of the plan.

The state now spends $18 million annually on 35,000 needy elderly persons for medical assistance, Schmidt said, and the state has to consider the cost connected with adding a couple of hundred thousand more.

The U.S. Welfare Department announced Wednesday that Wisconsin will receive $2.77 million under the plan to aid the aged who are not on the assistance rolls but who cannot pay medical bills.

Two Ask for Hearings on Murder Charge

Shawano —(AP)—LeRoy Stick, 21, and John Hawpetoss, 22, residents of the Menominee Indian reservation, asked for preliminary hearings when they appeared in municipal court Wednesday on charges of second degree murder.

They are accused in the death of William Nelis Jr., 24, of Odanah, Ashland county, a resident of the Bad River Indian reservation. Nelis died in a Shawano hospital Sept. 6, three days after being found beaten on a town road near Keshena.

Judge R. H. Fischer set preliminary hearings for Oct. 13 and returned the defendants to county jail when they were unable to furnish $10,000 bonds.

Robert Hawpetoss, 24-year-old brother of John, also has been named in a warrant charging second degree murder and is being sought by authorities.

Wausau Converting Plant-Tour Opens TAPPI Fall Program

Welfare Director To Speak to AHS Faculty Wives

City Welfare Director Melville J. Flagstad will speak to Appleton High school faculty wives at their first meeting of the school year at 7:30 p. m. today in the school's Early American room.

Flagstad will describe the general relief program administered by the city welfare department and will tell of the relationship of the department to other public and private agencies, including the schools.

The faculty wives' program for the year includes meetings on Oct. 20, Dec. 8, Feb. 23 and April 27 and a picnic on May 25.

Officers are Mrs. Lawrence Witzke, president; Mrs. Her- vis McCrary and Mrs. Donald Thayer, program co-chairmen; Mrs. Daniel Donarski, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Hallada, calling chairman.

Openings Remain For More Pupils In Dance, Baton

Registration for dance classes sponsored by Appleton Recreation department still are being accepted. There are about 20 openings.

Classes usually total about 250. Thus far 230 have signed up. Elmer Grover, director, says.

Openings are for tap, ballet and acrobatics. There also is room for about 15 more in baton twirling.

Dance and acrobatic classes will be Mondays and Tuesdays and baton on Saturday mornings.

Registration will be open through Friday. Classes were scheduled to begin Monday, but have been postponed to Sept. 26.

15 Polio Cases

Madison —(AP)—The state board of health said Wednesday four polio cases were reported in the week ending Sept. 3, bringing total cases for 1960 to 15, compared to 28 in the same period a year ago.

Men's Styles are Not Mousy, Static

Five Models, Other Varieties In Fall Lines; More Color Used

Whatever happened to that authentic classic interpretation of men's clothes are mousey. And if this spread in fashion isn't sufficient for the average fellow, he will be able to find even greater variety in the many subdivisions of these styles as they are expressed by the designers for the individual manufacturers.

With the advent of fall 1960, there are no less than five distinctly different suit models being worn by men on their way to the polling places and by the youngsters who have not yet reached their majority.

It seems to please the men of the country to be able to select freely from five models—the nationally favored American natural model with its relatively conservative lines; the consciously stylish American continental model with its Italianate detailing; the new trans-American model which is a very popular modified version of the Continental; the California-inspired American ambassador model with its figure flattering lines and the American Ivy model which has weathered the decades with but minor changes in its

Sports Coats Weights Differ

Might be Easily Solved by Buying Several Models

Sports coats offer a weighty problem for fall because the average fellow will have to decide whether he wants a lightweight worsted or wool blend, a regular weight shetland or tweed, or one of the kempy tweeds.

The simplest solution might be to buy one of each because it is no longer possible for a single sports jacket to meet all needs.

This problem might be further complicated by the fact that just about every wardrobe today requires a blazer in a classic flannel or colorful hopsacking.

Colors, Patterns
After making his choice of weights, the fellow in quest of a sports jacket must then decide on colors and patterns. Starting with powerfully patterned plaids and tartans, he can work his way down the design scale to more modest plaids, bold checks, medium checks, mini-checks, overplaids, stripes, self-patterns and solids.

Olive, brindle and gold shades in sports coatings are among the current fashion favorites and these are well supplemented by browns, grays, blues and some polychromatic blends that defy description.

Grape accents, mostly in restrained decorative effects are also among the brand new offerings. Even the simple shades take on a new look because of the new color blends which lend added depth to the fabrics and get away from the old flat look.

Patch Pockets
Look for more patch pockets—some with flaps, roomier styling that retains the slim look, and, of course, a selection of models as great, if not greater, than that to be found in suits.

This season also marks a return to British inspired styling expressed by comfortably honest shoulders, slightly broad lapels, a bit of waistline indentation and, in some instances, a bit of the flair to the jacket bottom.

The Ivy models are unchanged, which is just the way that Ivy addicts want them, and the continental "high-risers" with their high models have been slightly modified for easier fit and enhanced appearance.

Country, Sports Suit
However, it is a revived fashion idea which has gotten off to a fast start and is certain to make further rapid gains this autumn. This welcome addition to the men's wear scene is the country suit or the sports suit.

Many years ago, when many of our present fashion leaders were still in short pants, the sports jacket and slacks outfits so widely worn today were virtually unknown. The country gentlemen of that bygone period garbed himself for his more leisurely pursuits in tweed, cheviot or shetland suits. These were holder in pattern and color and more casual in cut than their town clothes. On the other hand, they were quite a bit dressier than the subsequent odd jacket and slacks.

Country Living
The recent great migration to suburbia and exurbia, plus the relatively new trend to cold weather country weekends on the part of city dwellers, combined with a growing need for casually correct clothes for informal in-town wear, have all contributed to the rapid acceptance of the country or sports suits.

Newly styled and newly constructed rainwear that offers protection against the cold as well as against the rain is also available in a tremendous variety for fall and winter wear. Among the newest in this category are jersey knits blended of wool and man-made fibers, bonded to featherlight foam interliners.

Fall hats are trimly coordinated in both silhouette and color to the new suits and outercoats. Town models are dressily smart while the sports shapes are casually correct in rough tweedy felts, luxurious velours and rakish fabrics.

Light Weight
Outerwear for fall provides warmth with a minimum of weight and accomplishes this feat with a full measure of fashion. Look for fur and fur-type trims and linings, dressy suburbans and action-ready jackets.

Look for slacks in both bold and subtle patterns to supplement the ever popular gray flannels. Try them on for a look of trimness without bind or tightness.

Coordinate your new fall shoes with your town and country clothes. Slip into the sophisticated business Oxford, as well as into the casual slip-ons and tweedy brogues. Look for the new them, and the continental "high-risers" with their high models have been slightly modified for easier fit and enhanced appearance.

Longer, More Rugged

New Outerwear Look Offers Greater Uses

The new look in masculine water-repellent poplins, gabardines and others, Suedes and suede-like cloths—many are now washable and impervious to water, a big advantage in snowy weather or on ski slopes. These are marked by new designs, many of which stem from Nordic stylings.

Dressy coats—these are geared for week-end wear and for use with the very popular new sports suits—the coats to select when a full-length tweed is too dressy—great for both motoring and country walking, as well as for spectator sportswear.

Corduroy—used much more widely than heretofore, the current corduroys are often dressed up with big bright blanket linings that add plenty of warmth and an extra measure of good looks.

Loden Cloth
Loden and loden-type cloths—both plain and patterned, these fleecy warmers are shown in many styles including lengths that range from the waist to below the knees, blouses, jackets and reversible coats.

Cottons and cotton-plus blends—here are some new wash-wears to supplement the nylons and other manmade fibers. Quilted coats—rugged masculine styling that incorporates warm science-fiber battings and wools stitched between layers of water-resistant poplins.

Hooded pop-overs—big with young suburbanites as well as with the college crowd, these pull-over blouses come in solids and giant blanket plaids. Others feature nautical designs and poncho effects.

Reversible Lengths
Reversibles flip from one side to the other for a change of color, a change from solid color to pattern, or a switch from nappy fabrics to slick

New Sport Shirts Characterized by Colors, Patterns

Vivid colors enliven fall sports shirts. Gold, olive, green and orange are evident in both business-type casual shirts and knit pullovers. Grape, too, is shown in combination with other colors.

When buying wool sports shirts, a good idea is to follow the rule of contrast. Shirts of bright colors go with dark jackets. Dark shirts look best with light tone sports coats.

A patterned wool shirt goes with a solid color blazer. A solid color shirt belongs with the new bold plaid and check jackets.

In less than two years wool challis has become one of the most popular woven sport shirt fabrics for men. Challis, a woven fabric, is tissue-thin, yet warm in cold weather

Classic Necks
There are also more crew, plaid, neat checks and intricate necks and some fresh approach to boat-neck styling beauty to the sweater scene this fall.

Be sure to see the color-ful contrast trims. You can't possibly miss the bold all-over patterns and the Icelandic motifs.

Novelties include spaced designs, engineered patterns, stripes and some plain knits spiced with areas of fancy stitching. The newest bulky knits breezes or icy winds.

Easy to Match Coats to Suits

Topcoat, Overcoat Models
Made for Companion Outfits

Which of the current suit, the patch type, plain flapped models gets your personal or cut-through slashed type, vote — the widely favored. The new fall coats will be American natural, the classic slightly shorter than in the American Ivy, the sleek past.

Well, whatever your preference in a suit, the odds are all in your favor when it comes to nominating the ideal running mate for it in a new topcoat or overcoat.

Each of the present-day suit models embodies certain characteristics of design that are best complemented by various details and lines incorporated in the outercoats styled for attractive coordination with the suits.

So, if you're setting up a winning fashion ticket, here's the way to team up your suits and coats according to models:

THE AMERICAN NATURAL — Best choice for wear with American natural suits. The straight hanging, easy-fitting box coat. It should have notched lapels and the dials to dark shades will be set-in sleeves may be either best for fall, but keep an eye plan or seamed down the out-peeled for handsome natural side. The pockets can be of shade gabardines as well as

Four Rules On Wearing Handkerchief

There is a lot of difference between wearing a handkerchief and using one.

There are few fellows who don't know how to use a handkerchief, but there are many in doubt about the correct method of wearing one.

Here are the accepted rules:

1. Pure white only with formal or semi-formal clothes. Use linen, batiste or any fine cotton with tuxedo or tails, but never wear silk with evening clothes.

2. Colored cotton, linen or silk handkerchiefs are fine for wear with either business, casual or sports clothes, but keep the colors to the general color theme or to the shirt, suit or tie.

3. How to wear the fold? Any tie fold that suits you is all right. Square TV folds are preferred by some, three-point folds by others, and the casually tucked-in puff" by still others. The latter is a bit more sophisticated and is worn by many well-turned-out men. Silk pocket squares should always be worn in the casual puff—never neatly folded.

4. To dress up an open-neck sports shirt, fold a large square into a triangle then take three more turns to make a neckerchief. Secure it with a square knot. Ready-made ascots need only an overhand knot and they are very popular.

some very good looking olive blends.

THE TRANS-AMERICAN — Perhaps the smartest coat to combine with the trans-American model is the easy fitting, comfortable split-raglan — that now familiar coat that appears to have set-in sleeves when viewed from front and raglan sleeves when seen from the back. These, too, are shorter this season and can be had with bal collars and semi-peaked lapels or notched lapels. Some have angled flap pockets, others cut-through splash pockets.

THE AMERICAN AMBASSADOR — For wear with the American ambassador model, try an overcoat with more emphasized shoulder detailing or select one of those suggested for wear with the American continental or trans-American models.

Fur Trim — There is also a definite trend toward dressy and casual coats trimmed with fur or fur-type collars. The dressier types use Persian lamb or man-made versions of that fur on sleek black fabrics for an ultra-luxurious effect. The casual versions use everything from raccoon to mouton, to man-made furs of many descriptions on tweedy cloths. The fur trim look on coats may develop into a widely accepted fashion inasmuch as it is as good looking as it is practical.

A few other styles to keep in mind are the notched collar reglan for wear with Ivy, American natural and other conservative suits; the double-breasted polo coat in camel shades for all sportswear and casual outfits; the modified great coat, now known as the ulsterette, a good all-purpose cold weather garment; and, of course, the classic British-type balmacaan that can be worn with any casual outfit.

Short and Splendid Are the New fall season topcoats. The town-and-country balmacaan, left, is tailored with a fly-front and flapped hacking pockets. The dressy town coat, right, shows a strong continental influence.

Replaces Leather
Suitcases in Shops

Identically styled luggage for men and women this year will present some problems at baggage depots, for the masculine and feminine pieces can not be discerned by their exteriors.

While both are constructed of sturdy, lightweight fiberglass with molded edges, the colors and pieces will be a clue to the owner's identities. Women prefer white and blue 3-piece luggage sets, but men chose charcoal and brown tones for their two bags.

The traveler's identity is easily shown by the differences in the interiors of masculine and feminine pieces. Men find their travel needs can easily be packed in a companion case and 2-suitcase with plaid or checked compartment linings. A train case, 21 inch weekend-er and 26 inch pullman, lined in quilted pastels with pockets and detachable plastic lined bags for cosmetics complete the women's sets.

Box Styles Out — The old, heavy, leather box-styled suitcases are rapidly being replaced by sturdy, lightweight materials — such as magnesium, a light metal. The new pieces have rounded "corners" trimmed with thin strips of metal and are not as

Sock for Every Outfit News For This Fall's Footwear

There is a sock in fall fashion — a sock for every outfit.

Among the hosiery highlights for the current season are: new fibers added for longer wear, greater softness, or enhanced appearance; fresh new colors keyed to fall suitings, sportswear, or tweedy sports suits; new weights, many of which are lighter; and new textures engineered to produce a nubby look.

Crew socks for casual wear will be bigger than ever. Many of these will have cushion soles.

More Variety — There will also be a much greater variety in the lengths of hose available this season. They will range in intermediate steps from anklets to knee-lengths.

Diamonds, argyles, chevrons, clocks and side panels tell the pattern story, as well as some split designs, where the front carries a different knit, color or design than the back. Look for new tweedy knits and compound colors. Here are a few basic rules for the correct use of socks: Match them to either your shoes, suit or tie.

Higher Lengths — Use the higher lengths for business and dress-up outfits. Wear the modest patterns and plain ribs with dressy shoes. Shaded ombre effects, center panels and, of course, classic stripes and foulards round out the tie picture. The most popular colors include gold, olive, grape, slate and silvery blue, all more effective because more of the ground shades show under the sparser design work.

Neat Motifs Rule Roost In Neckwear

This fall neat motifs are the rule in men's neckwear. With more and larger patterning being used in men's suits, the modest patterning of the ties is a virtual must.

However, because the designs are neater does not mean they are less interesting or less beautiful. As a matter of fact, these trim treatments have new and appealing look even when worn with unpatterned suits.

There are underknot ties that confine their designs to the area below the knot or, in some instances, a single section of the tie. Occasionally, this may be a single spot of design, in others it may be a stripe of pattern, and in still others it may be the new neck-lace look, in which the design may appear to have a jeweled pendant suspended across the apron of the tie.

Shaded ombre effects, center panels and, of course, classic stripes and foulards round out the tie picture. The most popular colors include gold, olive, grape, slate and silvery blue, all more effective because more of the ground shades show under the sparser design work.

4 Topcoats Needed; Many Styles Popular

Trend Toward Short Lengths;
Tailored Back

Adolph Menjou once stated in an interview that he owns forty topcoats. How many topcoats or overcoats does the average man need?

A minimum of four, a dressy and a more casual one in lightweight wools, and the same pair in heavier, winterweight wools — though the days of the back-bending, ultra-heavy coats are over. For example, a man with a pin-check lightweight topcoat for spring and fall, one light-weight wool tweed coat for pockets and a flapped chest more casual occasions in the pocket. They are worn on same seasons, one dressy, weekends, on country outings, heavy wool velour overcoat for spectator sports. The new for the coldest days, and a wool country hats match sportier raglan-sleeve, bal-collar checked wool saxon; overcoat in a heavy weight for freezing weather, is a man with a balanced, sensible, very usable wardrobe of outer coats.

Fresh Coatings — There are so many fresh smarter, jauntier air, yet still wool coatings and styles warm where warmth is needed. A new sleeve styling has patterns to be seen this fall, become very popular in both and so many distinct suit silhouettes to match in spirit. This is the split-raglan sleeve, that a man will want to own which is set-in in front, raglan as many wool overcoats as lan in back, for a tailored facade, but greater ease of arm movement.

Three Requirements For Men's Rainwear

Fall and winter rainwear with hydrophobic fabric finish must meet three important issues and the use of man-made fibers in the raincoat are to protect against the cloths.

rain and snow, to protect. The ancient rubberized and against cold and to be well oiled fabrics, of course, were styled. The foul weather garment almost completely water-resistant offered for the present proof. However, they had a season meet all of those needs very serious deficiency — with a wide margin of practice they didn't breathe. In practicality and good looks to order for a cloth to function properly, to provide the wear.

The first qualification — to wear with either a cool garment protect against rain and or with warmth, it must have snow — is now almost taken enough porosity to allow the for granted due to the giant air to pass through. The new strides made in recent years finishes and fibers permit this while preventing moisture from seeping through.

Added warmth for really severe weather is provided via liners, linings and interlinings, taking care of the second qualification. The liners are detachable and may be used according to the needs of the day.

The linings are permanently attached and range from wools to blends of natural and man-made fibers that include deep fur-like pile fabrics. The modern interlinings include the former plus quilt-like battings and, newest of all, foamy synthetics embodying millions of tiny air cells which are practically weightless and provide unusual warmth.

As far as style is concerned — or qualification number three — the number of models, colors, patterns and novelties are limitless.

New Look

The newest look in rainwear features fur and fur-like trims and linings. These range from man-made synthetic fiber furs to genuine mink. Iridescent shades in medium, light or dark colors are still very popular and there will be many more raincoats in patterns including plaids, checks, herringbones and subdued self-weaves.

Probably the outstanding rainwear development of the year is the new jersey knit coat. Made of a blend of wool with man-made fibers, they are lined with the new foam interliners that have actually been laminated to the jersey. Extremely light in weight, they are very warm and very handsome. Colors range from sleek blacks to mixtures in brown and gray.

fabrics designed to ward off low temperatures with high style.

Among the new colors are olive, antique gold and "Vicuna." These come as a welcome addition to the classic browns, tans, grays and black.

Black vents, shorter lengths, off-center lines of decoration, lattice-work effects and embossing all add to the new look in gloves. All-around elasticized cuffs, foam linings for extra insulation, thermal knit liners and contrasting - color pile linings are part of the inside story.

Leathers are frequently lighter in weight (some with warm linings) and many have the hand of luxury. Those tan-nages include soft capeskins, split pigskins and new reverse lambskins that are self-lined with shearling wool. Men will like the stretch gloves with Helanca sidewalls as well as the casual bulky knits.

Of Handkerchiefs and Zip-in Tux Linings

Squared-off pocket handkerchiefs are still good fashion their fingertips and encircling — but comedian Jerry Lewis doesn't like them. Says he, "The array of gloves and keeps thinking he forgot to mail a letter."

Society bandleader Lester Lanin has some of his tuxedos made with the zip-in wool lining, for trips when he might play cold Canada one night and hot Florida the next!

Men will have fashion at their necks this fall and winter. The array of gloves and keeps thinking he forgot to mail a letter.

In gloves, there are leathers with colors keyed to the new sportswear, a whole fistful of continental ideas, and many new types of linings in the handsome leathers and

Colors Add Lift to Woolen Suit Styles

Gold, Olive Tones Prominent; Continental Influence Seen

The grey flannel era, too, to be supplanted by men's suits is past.

For one thing, drab greys no longer dominate the suit scene. American men are now ready to accept some color in their business wear.

The freshest popular color for fall, 1960 is olive. Time was when men wouldn't wear surfaces are more dressy, olive. It reminded them of town - oriented; the softer army days. But "olive drab" flannels and rough tweeds are has become "olive lively" in favored in country suits.

More Personality In all-wool worsteds men and encompass both solid color can find the greatest range of colors in wool suits with subtle color combinations. olives combined with other wool suitings have more personality, as well as offering pounds. These olive tones of greater warmth, resiliency for a man a chance to freshen his accessories wardrobe.

They open up possibilities of pattern interest. The male de- charcoal brown shoes.

quite as cutaway in front as the true continental. The lapels are just as likely to be notch lapels as peak lapels and three buttons are as usual in this style as the original continental's two buttons. The pockets are probably slanted.

American Silhouette More conservative men will stay with the American silhouette, with a jacket of standard length, no noticeable cutaway, some shoulder padding and waist suppression to flatter the male build, straight flap pockets, notch lapels, three buttons, a center or no vent.

Or he may like the California silhouette, with more squared and forward-pitched shoulders and longer roll to the lapel. The advanced fashion thinker will insist on the true continental, with no adul- teration - peak lapels, two buttons, pronounced cutaway, slanted welt pockets, sleeve vents, no chest pocket, side cuffs and cuffless trousers.

Or he may be interested in something completely new for fall - the British silhouette or "London Line," with more fullness in the shoulders and chest, a somewhat wider lapel, some suppression at the waist and something of a flare to the coat skirt, and certainly a longer jacket than the continental's.

Young Executive Suit The younger executive will continue to elect his favored natural - shoulder silhouette, with three buttons, minimal padding, straight-hanging lines, straight flap pockets, hooked center vent, pleatless trousers. The more fashion- conscious young man will, cross his natural shoulder with some continental influences, such as slanted, pockets or peak lapels or side- vent for an extra bit of dash.

News in Suit Styling for This Fall is provided by the trans-American model, a modified version of the American continental. It adds up to a comfortably tailored look, in a wide and attractive choice.

Sturdy Coats Available for Youngsters

Wide Variety of Styles, Designs For Fall, Winter

The little boy, who will no longer wear know suits, will be able to dress just like dad or his big brother this fall and winter.

Coats for youngsters six years, or older, are made to take a lot of punishment. Many of them can be washed at home if reasonable care is used. Some of them drip dry overnight and are a godsend to busy mothers.

Warm school jackets come in many fabrics and styles. There are reversible orlon pile jackets with the one side an acrylic smooth fabric that can be used for church or Sunday school.

Ski jackets in navy, charcoal brown and grey are wonderful for school. Hooded winter jackets of wool and gabardine are rugged, with stout zippers.

Car Coat Popular Car coat length is popular with young boys this year and these coats are being used as top coats for dress wear in the winter. This length is also to be had in yellow slickers or ponchos.

The duck trench coat is popular with boys and girls of all ages and sizes.

Sport jackets in plaids and solid colors, as well as flannel jackets with gold or silver but- tons, just like dad's, are in- dispensable for birthday parties and dress-up occasions.

With jackets and slacks taking the place of suits for young boys as well as their elders, all colors and fabrics are available. Many of them are washable and need only to be touched up with a warm iron. The days of the navy blue serge suit for Sunday school are over.

Coats in general are warm, lightweight and easy to wear.

The all-wool blazer, continu- ing its popularity, is an ex- ception to the above rules. It can be worn to either type of occasion and be poised at both. Black, olive and gold blazers will be very nearly as popular as navy blue this fall. Double-breasted are still high- batch pockets or bellows pocket- fashion.

Sports Clothing Made In Two Distinct Types

There are two different grey-blue; gold, rust and kinds of sports clothing for black; grey, white and red; the well-supplied closet. Human Rights Law Requests Listed

Proposals Would Extend Guarantees in Public Places

By JOHN WINGARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The governor's commission on human rights wants enforcement powers to back up the art of persuasion in handling denial of rights cases in Wisconsin.

The 15-year-old agency that has functioned thus far through mediation and education and only rarely has referred cases to prosecuting officers, has approved in principle the draft of legislation that would make it a law enforcement agency and broaden the scope of anti-discrimination statutes.

After consultation with other public and private agencies, the commission will ask the 1961 legislature for approval of a broad program law including these highlights:

1. Extension of rights guarantees to cover all places of accommodation, amusement or business serving the public.
2. Creation of a new section outlawing discrimination in the sale, leasing, rental of real property and the negotiation of mortgage loans.
3. Giving the commission direct regulatory and enforcement authority, with subpoena powers of the kind successfully sought from the legislature a year ago.

See Sparing Use
Members said the enforcement powers, if authorized, would be sparingly used. The principal interest of the commission would continue to be mediation and persuasion, and the use of publicity as a weapon in the upholding of civil rights laws, according to Mrs. Rebecca Barton, commission executive. "This will be a back-stop," she said.

The legislative drafts were brought in by a committee headed by the two commission vice chairmen, the Rev. Perry Saito, Stevens Point Methodist minister, and V. I. Minahan, Appleton Post-Crescent editor.

Some members suggested that softening amendments may be necessary to get approval for the bundle of bills. Prof. David Fellman of the University of Wisconsin warned that the proposed penalties of up to $200 a day for each day of a violation of rights law might appear too severe to legislators.

License Laws Mentioned
Members also discussed the possibility of amending state licensing laws to make explicit the civil rights guarantees as they relate to licensed professions and occupations.

Real estate brokers, tavern keepers, lawyers and others might lose their licenses through violations of the civil rights laws, under such bills. The commission said such proposals will have further review.

The commission disclosed that Gov. Gaylord Nelson has pledged his support for the proposals.

A stronger law against housing discrimination was a principal recommendation of a conference on human rights called by Gov. Nelson several months ago.

Inefficient Services of State Blasted

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Legislative leaders were startled Wednesday when an expert witness testified that the state's many statistical and data processing services are "the epitome of inefficiency."

The blunt criticism evidently persuaded the state board of government operations to give its hasty approval to a proposal by Joe E. Nusbaum, state commissioner of administration, for the start of a central data processing service for five principal state agencies.

The board studies state government operations between legislative sessions, and is empowered to make changes in arrangements. Nusbaum runs the central business office of the state set up by Gov. Gaylord Nelson a year ago, and now a source of controversy with across department lines and Republican campaigners.

Nusbaum brought in Maj. Joseph Waddell, a business conservation, highways, motor vehicles and many others, to relate what he has discovered about the need for the reorganization, state's business methods as noting that too often in the a member of a special study past business management task force named by Gov. reforms have been killed by Nelson some months ago.

"You'd have to work at it Four Democrats on the board to make it worse," Waddell put over the approval in the said scornfully of the decentralization of data and computing publicans, Assemblyman Dav-

Welding Work On Sub Outlined By Engineer

Processes Used on 'Triton' Explained To Valley Unit

Unique processes used in the welding work on "Triton," the largest of the nuclear powered submarines, was explained to members of the Fox Valley section of the American Welding society at the Appleton Elks club Wednesday night.

G. W. Kirkley, a welding engineer in the research and development department of electric boat division of the General Dynamics corporation, Groton, Conn., explained the processes involved in spotless white clothing in a sealing sections of the huge room where there is no air submarine. He illustrated his talk with slides and a film.

Workers Protected
The "Triton" is a hull within a hull, Kirkley pointed out and work on both sections goes on simultaneously. Workers on the inner hull are protected from those working on the outer shell by plywood canopies.

One of the most ticklish jobs in a nuclear sub is that of welding the pipes that carry power from the atomic reactors. Naturally, Kirkley said, each of these welds must be perfect without the slightest chance of a break plate crews at all times, one-on board and the other ready to take over. The sub is a 3-Decker structure and is equipped with a dial telephone system throughout. It is of 100 per cent welded construction, Two-year - old Cash now has a sister, Carey.

Need Specialist to Assist Menominees

Nusbaum Says State Should be Ready When Indians are Given Independence

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Without careful preparation for the termination of federal government responsibility for the Menominee Indian tribe, the state may be heading for a disaster, presented by the Menominee Indian study commission.

The comment came from Joe E. Nusbaum, Gov. Nelson's commissioner of administration, as the state board of government operations heard a proposal to employ a specialist to assist the Indians in setting up their business affairs and a local government.

Improve Services
Nusbaum expressed publicly a worry that many state officials have had privately — as the state board of government operations heard a proposal to employ a specialist to assist the Indians in setting up their business affairs and a local government.

"We could have a real disaster if these people are dumped on us when they and we are not ready," said the officer.

One of the problems is to elevate standards of community and governmental service in the reservation area, he said.

Pipes Treated
Special processes treat the pipes after the welds are completed. These processes clean the interior of the pipes, purify them and they are capped at both ends until ready for use.

The "Triton" is 447 feet long, the speaker said, 66 feet longer than any other submarine in the United States fleet. The ship has two complete crews at all times, one on board and the other ready to take over. The sub is a 3-Decker structure and is equipped with a dial telephone system throughout. It is of 100 per cent welded construction, Two-year - old Cash now has a sister, Carey.

Charlie Gets Travel Bug, Yearns For Riviera, Settles for Iola

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

I have a new assignment. Here's how it came about:

Dear Boss (I wrote):
I have been home from Europe for almost a whole month. I am beginning to feel the pangs which come to me when it is necessary for me to travel. My head itches, my eyes water and I'd like to be somewhere else, somewhere very nice and pretty. Have you any ideas?

Charlie:
Yes, sir.

Dear Mr. House (He wrote):
Not really. But your trouble sounds like nothing more complicated than hay fever.

The Boss:
I didn't really mean I wanted to discuss my physical infirmities with you, but I don't have hay fever. What I was trying to suggest is that I feel, once again, the yen to travel to distant horizons, to sweet lands far away. I was wondering if you have any ideas on this subject.

Charlie:
No, I don't.

Dear Boss:
Well, I have been doing a lot of thinking lately. I have an idea for what I believe would make a very good series of articles. I think the readers would be very pleased with them. I don't know whether I should call it a thought or a plan, but Boss, I would certainly like to go off on a big, long junket somewhere nice. What do you think?

Charlie:
I think you ought to call it a thought because it means the act or process of thinking. When you use the word "plan" it implies a method or a scheme to carry out a design. See Webster's International Dictionary, 2nd Edition. I am pleased to see you finally interested in words.

The Boss:
I'm not interested in words at the moment, Boss. I'm interested in letting you know that I have got the travel bug and I'd like to go off somewhere to a far away land. How do you feel about that?

Charlie:
We'd miss you. When you leave, however, don't forget to clean off your old desk. Pretty messy, Charles. The new man shouldn't have to clean up after you.

Dear Boss:
WHAT new man? I didn't even suggest for a very faint second that I was leaving the employ of this nice newspaper. I just meant that I'd like to go off on a trip and write a series of articles on it. That's all I meant, Boss.

Charlie:
P.S. Doesn't my desk look nice and neat now? I cleaned it.

Dear Charlie:
Your desk looks a little better, but I take a dim view of your use of empty beer bottles for paper weights. Thirty-six of them! What kind of a trip did you have in mind?

The Boss:
Well, I have been thinking fondly of gentle zephyrs, things like that. Golden beaches, bikini swim suits, a roaring surf. You know, that sort of thing. So could I go, perhaps, to the Caribbean? Or Acapulco? Cannes? The Riviera? Guatemala Or a nice, long ocean cruise on the Mediterranean?

Charlie:
No. No. No. No. No. No. But there is news being made — dangerous, maybe — in Cuba, Siberia, Leopoldville. How about one of those interesting places?

Dear Boss:
No. No. No. How about the West Indies?

Charlie:
No. I've had an inspiration. Isn't the first day of autumn on Sept. 22?

The Boss:
Yes, sir.

Dear Charlie:
Don't you take a walk every autumn? A nice long walk of about 100 miles?

And didn't you promise me?

The Boss:
Fine! I like to see such enthusiasm. I suggest you begin to prepare to be on the road by the time autumn arrives officially.

I suggest that you start your trip at Kewaunee and end it at Iola. How does that strike you?

The Boss:
Pretty hard, Boss. That's about 130 miles!

Dear Charlie:
I admire your vigor, your never-say - "can't" attitude. When will you start?

The Boss:
When will you start?

Announcement!

It is with a good deal of pleasure and personal satisfaction to announce that I have opened a men's clothing store at Valley Fair in the location formerly occupied by Jungs Mens-Womens wear store.

With a background of 15 years in the men's retail clothing business in this area I feel that I am completely qualified to serve you well and offer competent advice and help in the selection and fitting of your apparel.

Our stocks are all brand new and fresh and while our selections in all lines are still not complete, we are open for business and cordially invite you to stop in and get acquainted and inspect our new store.

Representative Keeps Scorebook On Congress

Washington—A Nebraska Republican has compiled his own scorebook on statistics of the Eighty-Sixth congress. Here's what Rep. Glenn Cunningham found in checking through records of the congress, which opened in January, 1939 and wound up its business Sept. 1:

There were 30,164 bills and resolutions introduced by members of the house and senate, of which 1,130 became law.

The house was in session 1,089 hours and 8 minutes, for an average of 3 hours and 55 minutes. This included sessions of 3, 4, 8, 11 and 19 minutes.

The senate, with no limit on debates such as exists in the house, met for 2,188 hours and 37 minutes.

It took 35,808 pages of the Congressional Record to print all of the debate and speeches made during the 2-year period.

He didn't figure this but since it costs an estimated $61 per page to print this daily record of congressional activities, the bill for this alone would amount to $2,912,568.

Terrors Invade Jays' Field

Bernie Heselson, who has been fighting a gallant, though losing battle to have spring football practice restored in the MC, feels that one of its biggest assets is to help sustain student interest. It's a long interval from the end of November until the beginning of the next September, and invariably a number of prospects lose their grid interest and drift from the squad. The long time between seasons, Heselson believes, is one of the reasons Lawrence has had trouble getting its squad up to the desired numerical level of 35.

Midwest conference football fans, who pulled hard for Ripon's Dave Smith to make it with the Packers last fall, are applauding his fast start in the new American league. His beating out "All-American" Bob White as first string fullback is another indication that highly-publicized players aren't always the best.

The impression is inescapable that with only nine days remaining until the first game, Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn is no closer to picking a starting lineup than he was two weeks ago—or last spring, for that matter. While this uncertainty and constant shuffling fosters competition for positions, it hardly can do much to get the team ready for its king-sized opening assignment against Stanford. Maybe the Badgers need a few more coaches to help with the evaluation chore. The coaches' appraisal of talent has left something to be desired in the face of last Saturday's stunning, 39-7 "scrub" victory over the varsity. Last year, in a similar game-type scrimmage, the first and second teams mopped up on the third and fourth stringers, 71-0.

John Nussbaum, an Appleton High school stalwart for three years, plans to play basketball but not football in his freshman year at St. John college. He doesn't want to take any unnecessary chances with the knee that was injured last football season.

Encore Olympic winners are rareties, indeed. Approximately only one out of 10 individual 1956 champions repeated this year. They are America's Glenn Davis, (400-meter hurdles), Al Oerter (discus), Lee Calhoun (110-meter hurdles) and Charles Vinci (bantam weight-lifting); Australia's Murray Rose (400-meter freestyle), Dave Thiel (100-meter backstroke) and Dawn Fraser (100-meter freestyle); Turkey's Mithat Bayrak (welterweight wrestling); Hungary's Rudolph Karpatti (individual saber); Japan's

The 30-year-old slugger made known his plans in a press conference at Busch stadium. Stan "The Man" told the gathering he had decided to play next year "because I enjoy it." "Baseball has been my business and pleasure too long for me not to play," he said. Musial declared he is confident he can help the Cardinals next year.

Boyce Makes Coaching Debut Against Dillon Friday Night

Post-Crescent Sports Editor
Menasha High school begins a new decade of football competition against Appleton with a new coach and a new outlook Friday night. When Emmett Boyce leads the Bluejays against the Appleton Terrors at the Dillon-coached Terrors at Butte des Morts field (8 p.m.), Menasha will be shooting for its first win in the series since 1951. The 12-7 win directed by Coach John Bachhuber nine years ago was the only Bluejay success over AHS during the '50s. (The Terrors won seven, one was tied and one was canceled.) Dillon, the old maestro of AHS football who has molded some of the state's top prep teams in three of the last four seasons, has an enviable non-conference record in his 17 years at the helm. His teams have won 13, lost two and tied one in non-leaguers. (The losses were 12-7 to the Bluejays in '51 and 13-7 to Menasha St. Mary in '43). Against the Jays, Dillon's teams have a 9-1-1 edge. Dillon's 1960 edition, which includes only eight lettermen, is fronted by a hulking line but has a shortage of proven backs. Whether the '60 Terrors can duplicate (or exceed) the 7-1 record of last year's team depends, among other things, on: how mobile the big line.

Baltimore Gains Virtual Tie For AL Lead With Yankees

Andy Carey's Homer Tips New York

By The Associated Press
The New York Yankees and the Baltimore Orioles are in a virtual tie for the American league lead today as they take a breather before Friday night's opener of a 4-game showdown at Yankee stadium. And all because the Yankees' kissin' cousins, the last-place Kansas City Athletics, bussed 'em right on the kiss-er.

Beats Former Mates
The A's, after winning only five of 20 decisions with New York, swept the final two games of the season series front - running Pittsburgh with a 2-1, ninth-inning shocker Wednesday night on a tie-breaking home run by ex-Yank Andy Carey. That shaved the Yankees' lead to one percentage point over the Orioles, who beat Detroit, 11-10, in an afternoon game. Chicago's third place White Sox remained two games behind with a 6-1 setback by Washington that ended their winning streak at six. Cleveland whipped Boston, 11-7, in the other AL night game. Carey's twelfth home run led off the ninth for the A's and beat Art Ditmar (14-9). Ray Herbert (11-15) was the winner, leaving 12 runners stranded and shutting out some of the state's top prep teams in three of the last four seasons, has an enviable non-conference record in his 17 years at the helm. His teams have won 13, lost two and tied one in non-leaguers. (The losses were 12-7 to the Bluejays in '51 and 13-7 to Menasha St. Mary in '43). Against the Jays, Dillon's teams have a 9-1-1 edge. Mathews Slaps 37th Homer Off Loser Cardwell

Milwaukee — — — — —
Jay's 6-hit pitching and nine hits from his teammates place Kansas City Athletics, but batters and errors by the Chicago Cubs — gave the Milwaukee Braves a 10-2 victory Wednesday night.

Starts Outburst
A triple from the bat of Henry Aaron in the second inning started the initial 4-run outburst for the Braves by sending three men home to score. The fourth run of the inning was scored by Jay, forced home when Eddie Mathews drew a walk. Reliever Don Elston, who came on in the fifth for Chicago, got into trouble at the start of the inning as Aaron whacked a single, Al Dark also singled, a bunt from Ed Haas and a walk to Logan filled the bases after Aaron was caught at second on a force play. Chuck Cottier followed with a single to score two runs and then Jay, aiding his cause, got credit for a sacrifice with his bunt to Elston and Elston threw into left field as Logan and Cottier scampered home. The other two Milwaukee runs came in the first inning. Mathews hit his thirty-seventh home run of the season and Aaron scored from second, which he stole after knocking a single. Chicago starter and loser Don Cardwell was chased from the mound after two innings. Seth Morehead took over, then Elston and Dick Drott came on in the seventh to finish up. Tally's 7-14
The loss put Cardwell's season tally at 7-14 and Jay's at 8-7. It was only the second game of the season that Jay

McHan Starting To Throw Again During Practice

Green Bay — Winston-Salem, N. C., was a miserable spot for Bart Starr one year ago. He started against the Redskins, couldn't get untracked, and was replaced early in the first quarter by Joe Francis who went on to "win" the game, 20-17. On the basis of that game, Starr slipped to third place in the quarterback race behind Lamar McHan and Francis. Now it's Winston-Salem again, and look where Starr sits on the QB pole: On top. McHan presently has an injured leg and doesn't figure to play at all Saturday night. Francis has a broken leg, suffered earlier in training during the process of shifting him from quarterback to halfback. Starr got an assist in his finished a starting role. The last time was on June 28, also against the Cubs.

George Altman drove in the two runs for Chicago in the fifth with a pinch double.

Milwaukee batters got a total of nine hits from the four Chicago hurlers and a good deal of help in five walks. Two hit batters and three Cub errors.

Jay had a no-hitter going until the fifth when the Cubs scored their runs. Frank Thomas and Bob Will singled, advanced on a long fly and scored on Altman's double.

bid to win the Packers' starting role in the league opener against the Bears in Green Bay Sept. 23. McMan came up with his injury in the Cowboy game last Sunday, with the Packers in front, 21-10.

Starr thus got an unexpected opportunity to do his stuff. The Cowboys forged ahead 23-21, and then Starr anchored the 77-yard, 10-play drive that gave the Bays a 28-23 victory in the fourth quarter.

McMan will still be in the running for starting QB against the Bears. He earned that spot with his showing during half of the first four non-leaguers. But Starr can gain an edge with a sharp performance against the Redskins.

First 5 Games

For the five games Starr has completed 40 passes in 80 attempts for 546 yards; McMan has completed 19 out of 52 for 465 yards.

McMan has started to throw again in practice, although Paul Hornung, lifted from some back at QB as an emergency measure. Hornung, a quarterback in college, played the spot some in his first year (1957) here.

Hornung and Lew Carpenter, also a halfback, get plenty of QB practice since they usually simulate the opponents' signal callers in defensive drills.

The aforementioned Francis is down to one crutch now, and he passes occasionally on the sidelines while watching practice.

Joe has made every trip with the squad and the Redskin game is no exception. The Packers were to close out nearly eight weeks of living at St. Norbert college this afternoon. When the team returns home early Sunday morning, married players whose wives are in Green Bay may return to their homes and all other players will headquarter at the Downtown motel.

Optimistic Daugherty Says MSU Will be Better Than '59 Runnerup

By Charles Chamberlain

East Lansing, Mich. —(U—)

"We never get out the crying towel at Michigan State and sometimes I get carried away with my enthusiasms."

That's Coach "Duffy" Daugherty talking as he looks over his 1960 football prospects.

"I can get elated just by seeing something good happen out there in practices," adds the most optimistic mentor in the conference.

"The other coaches always could keep a secret better than I can. We'll be better than last year—and if that's not optimism, I would like to know what is."

The Spartans finished second with a 4-2 record last fall and leading "Duffy's" gladiators into the Big Ten arenas this season are 19 lettermen and an exceptional gang of sophomores.

"We've the greatest bunch of newcomers I have seen since I've been here," says Daugherty. "Of course, I haven't seen them in a game yet."

Main Problems

"Our main problems are building an interior line where we have only five lettermen available from tackle to tackle in our two platoons, and in developing a quarterback to take Dean Look's place.

"We have good backfield

The halfback chores are in with speed, fine pass-catching and defensive steadiness.

pound slasher and good pass

receiver, and Ron Hatcher,

206-pound bruiser.

McNally Rated Better Than O'Dell at Comparable Time

Takashi Onro (horizontal bars); and Russia's Boris Shikhlin (gymnastics—side horse).

Keith Kohlman, Appleton High school junior varsity grid coach, was a Milwaukee Brewer bat boy for a few seasons before the Braves moved in. Johnny Logan is about the only current Braves regular who was with the Brewers at the time.

Dave McNally, the wealthy bonus lefty whom we hope to see at Goodland field next summer, got the seal of approval from a whole bevy of Baltimore scouts. They rate both his fast ball and curve as better than Bill O'Dell's at a comparable stage in his career. O'Dell, one of the Orioles' first big-bonus pitchers, had never—until this season—gone above 3.00 in earned run averages. This year, with San Francisco, O'Dell is up around 3.20. McNally won 18 straight games for Billings, Mont., before being beaten by New Orleans in the national Legion tourney finals. Wildness cost him a 3-1, 5-inning lead. In prior national tourney outings, he threw a couple of 3-hit wins, striking out 19 and 17 respectively.

Have you noticed that there's something missing on the state sports scene this month? For the first time in the last five years, the Milwaukee Braves are not announcing a mid-September opening of World Series ticket sales. The Braves actually qualified for the series in 1957 and '58, while in '56 and '59, ticket buyers had to ask for refunds.

Chuck Lewis, 19, Surprises Nicklaus In U. S. Tourney

Three Other Teenagers Gain Today's Double Round Action

By Charles Chamberlain
St. Louis, Mo.—Four brash teenagers, with Chuck Lewis, scion of an old English golfing family, the ringleader, today try to keep the accent on youth in the National Amateur.

Joining Lewis, conqueror of defending champion Jack Nicklaus in Wednesday's fourth round, are: Phil Brownlee, Ontario, Canada, junior champion; Steve Spray of Indianola, Iowa, 1959 western junior title; and Harry Root of Tampa, Fla., sophomore member of the University of Florida golf team. All are 19 years old.

The match-play marathon over the hilly, timbered 6,616-packed championship of the 60th tournament.

Charles Francis Lewis III, whose grandfather was a golf pro 51 years in Devonshire, England, and various cities in the United States, beat Nicklaus, 5 and 3. His father is pro at the Little Rock, Ark., Country club.

Just before going out against Lewis, Nicklaus had been a tiger-like killer in mauling Marine Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., 6 and 5.

Lewis' fifth round opponent will be Carl Lohren of Norbeck, Md., 22, current Mid-Atlantic champion making his fourth try in the National.

Brownlee takes on John Guenther of Hershey, the 1960 Pennsylvania open title.

Root squares off against Bob Gardner of New York, who won the California Amateur crown in 1947 and 1950 and the New York Metropolitan in 1953 and 1960.

Spray draws Bert Burdick, 21, Baton Rouge, La., amateur king and a member of the LSU golf team.

Other pairings

Other pairings include: John Garrett of Houston, 24, former Southwest Conference title; from Rice, vs. John Farquhar of Amarillo, 24, who also won the Southwest conference crown, at Texas Tech, in 1959.

Harvie Ward of San Francisco, 34, the 1955 and 1956 National king, vs. Claude Wild, 37, of Bethesda, 1957 Maryland champion.

Fred Paine of Oakmont, Pa., 34 Pennsylvania state title, vs. Deane Berman, Bethesda, 22, the 1959 British amateur champion and 1960 Trans-Miss winner.

Bill Hyndman, Abington, Pa., 44 finalist in the British Amateur last year, vs. Gene Andrews, Whittier, Calif., 47, semifinalist in the 1959 National and 1954 Public Links champion.

Iowa Varsity Romps Over Reserves, 35-7

By The Associated Press
An indoor scrimmage saw the Iowa varsity hammer Hawkeye reserves, 35-7, with fullback Joe Williams leading the attack, gaining 99 yards in seven carries.

Sucher Loses to Harvie Ward, 3-2

St. Louis — (U) — Dick Sucher of Milwaukee, reached the fourth round of the National Amateur Golf tournament Wednesday, only to lose to former U. S. titleholder Harvie Ward Jr., of San Francisco, 3 and 2.

Sucher entered the fourth round after his 2 and 1 triumph over Jack Leighy of Iowa City, Iowa.

Ward eliminated Sucher by winning the thirteenth, fourteenth and sixteenth holes after Sucher had evened the match with a 28-foot birdie putt on the twelfth hole.

yard St. Louis Country club course, has fifth and sixth round action today. This will trim the field to the four semifinalists who will joust over the 36-hole route Friday. The winners meet in a double round Saturday for the prestige-

Terrors Open Season Against Jays Friday

men prove to be against fast opposition; on how well the inexperienced quarterbacks (Dick Bloomer and John Wordell) spark the offense; and on whether the current question-marks in the defensive alignment can be erased. Boyce, in making his big school coaching debut, hopes to rally the Bluejay forces from their 1-6 record of 1959. He has inherited a relatively experienced team (nine of the 11 offensive starters are let-termen) and is blessed with a fast backfield.

Block at QB

Boyce, who has installed a split-T offense, lauds the spirit of his team. Holding one of the keys to Menasha success will be Jeff Block, the small, left-handed passing JV grad who has taken over the first-string quarterback.

The new Menasha coach appeared generally satisfied with his team's showing in a recent scrimmage against Sheboygan South (formerly Central)—especially its grasp of the fundamentals. AHS's Dillon, on the other hand, was disappointed with the Terrors' defensive play against Neenah in their only major scrimmage.

AHS will have three returnees who started on offense against the Jays in 1959. They are end Wayne Polzin, tackle Ed Felauer and back Marv Hietpas. The Terrors won 20-0, (with Hietpas scoring one of the touchdowns) and outgained Menasha, 341 yards to 135.

Pairing at end with Polzin will be letterman Jerry Gendron. Opposite Felauer at tackle will be lettermen Larry Feistel. Regular guards John Hohman and Jim Miringoff and center Joe Verrier are non-letter winners.

Backfield Unsettled

Outside of QB Bloomer, the starting Terror backfield is unsettled because of the twisted ankle right halfback Don Brock sustained in a recent workout. Brock may be able to see part-time duty, with his alternate being Cary Anderson. The versatile, hard-running Hietpas will start either at left half or at fullback. Pony-back Bill Hopkins or fullback Kent Anderson will round out the starting quartet.

Block and junior guard Jim Godeck are the only non-lettermen in the Jays' expected starting array.

Rounding out the line will be ends Bob Collins and Bill

Little League's Division Winners Receive Pennants

Pennant flags were presented to Appleton Little League Eastern division champion, Northside Advancement and Western division title VFW at a father-son banquet Tuesday evening in the Masonic temple.

Speaker Wayne Jinski of Stevens Point told the group that desire was the important asset for success in baseball. Jinski, a former Little leaguer who played for the Quad-Cities team in the class D Midwest league this season, told the group about life in the minors. He's under contract to the Milwaukee Braves.

The Rev. Donald Bazinski, assistant pastor of St. John's Catholic church, Menasha, gave the invocation and entertained with a 45-minute magic show.

Appleton Little League Director Bob DeNoble presented certificates to boys who have reached 13 years of age and completed their eligibility for Little League play.

Over 400 persons attended the affair. The Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce defrayed part of the banquet expenses.

U. S. Track Team Wins Easily Over British Empire

London — (U) — The United States crushed the British Empire 13 events to four in a damp track at field meet Wednesday night. Rain, varying from a drizzle to a down-pour, made the track heavy, but the 40,000 fans were treated to some spectacular performances by the Olympic stars despite the unfavorable conditions.

Although the women's events did not count in the match scores, some of the biggest cheers of the meet went to America's triple gold medal winner Wilma Rudolph. Miss Rudolph took the 100-yard event in 10.6, bettering the American record, and ran a tremendous final leg in the 100-yard relay.

And Australia's great miller, Herb Elliott didn't disappoint. He won the mile in 3:58.6.

Hazel Norman's 544 Trio Leads

Hazel Norman blasted a 544 threesome for the Beerwurst team in the Hillshire couples league at Hahn's over the weekend. One of her games in the opening round action was a 213.

Betty Jeske shot a 192. There were no other honor scores. Four teams share first place.

Tom Wiesner Runs Hard; 9 Players Held Out of Action

Madison — (U) — Coach Milt Bruhn had mixed feelings Wednesday after his young Wisconsin football squad held a full-scale scrimmage.

He was pleased as the Whites scored a 54-12 victory over the reserves but he added, "We've got to pick up on the defense."

Late in the workout, a fourth team unit paraded down the field for a touch-down, quarterback Tom Mett-lach bounding into the end zone from the one.

Top Contender

Ron Miller, sophomore quarterback, sparked the offense as he did in humbling the first unit, 39-7, in Saturday's scrimmage. Miller set himself up as the top contender for signal caller when he completed 12 of 24 passes for 150 yards, scored a touch-down by returning an intercepted pass 25 yards and counted again on a sneak.

He is head and shoulders above other quarterbacks at this stage, Bruhn said.

Jerry Nena, a swift left halfback, ran around end for tallies of seven and four yards and finished with a 71-yard scoring run.

Fullback Tom Wiesner stood out with hard running, while Hank Derleth and Pat Richter were adept at pass catching.

Bruhn had six sophomores in the starting unit as he sought to determine a lineup for the opener at Stanford Sept. 24.

Nine players were held out of contact work. They included halfback Merritt Norvell, who has a pulled leg muscle. All are expected to be ready for Saturday's final intrasquad scrimmage.

The White Sox were beaten by ex-teammate Early Battey, who walloped a 2-run homer in the second inning off loser Herb Score (4-10).

Don Tremel Tops Fraternal League With 586 Triple

Dick Jabas thumped the pins at a 612 rate for the co-leading Kilowatt team (5-1) in the second edition of Industrial league bowling at Hahn's Wednesday evening. Norm Johnson of Pond's had game honors with 232 and finished with a 571. Offenstein's and Pond's share first place.

Don Tremel rattled a 586 for IPC No. 1 to lead the way in Hahn's Fraternal league. Bob Oellerich shot a 226 for the State Bank and finished with a 561. Odd Fellows No. 1 (6-0) lead the league by one game.

Harold "Hap" Strebinger rattled a 569 for Jahnke Wrecking in the Merchants wheel at the 41 Bowl. Bob Snyder hit a 231 for the Brady Company. Singer's and Jahnke's (3-0) share first place. Jim Weisgerber slapped a triple of 181s.

There were no honor scores yesterday when he won two of the day's final three races in the North American Sailing championships.

Melges ran up a total of 624 points out of a maximum of 666 by winning six races and placing second and third in round-robin among regional champions who raced on Lake Mendota.

Robert Mosbacher of Houston, Tex., had 494 points to Stead, 553; Sam Cook, 553; finish in second place.

Conservation Club Will Stage Public Trap Shoot Sept. 25

The Outagamie County Conservation club will sponsor its annual public trap shoot Sunday, Sept. 25 at the club grounds on Mayflower road, according to Sec. Jim Kranzusch.

Shooting will start at 10 a.m. and continue until dark. Cash prizes will be awarded for the winner among each set of shooters.

Kranzusch said 20, 16 and 12-gauge ammunition will be available at the firing range along with an ample supply of clay "birds".

Food and refreshments will be available throughout the day. All of the club directors and as many members as possible will be on hand to direct parking, handle the food and beverage stands and care for shooters.

This is the club's biggest trap shooting event of the year. Shooting facilities include a 5-stand firing line, cement block trap house and an automatic trap.

Shooting is done over a grassy plane with a good sky - and-tree background. Gun racks and tables are stationed in back of the firing line.

We Are What We Eat, Say Nutritionists

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Nutrition is important to personal health and welfare, say the experts . . . food affects rate of growth . . . vigor . . . appearance and indirectly affects personal attitudes . . . ability of achievement and happiness. This puts meal planning and those "three squares a day" into primary orbit for the homemaker who has to plan, prepare and serve them.

It makes the homemaker's job a responsible one, but not as difficult as it looks. She can leave the technical terms to the experts if she uses the "basic four" as her meal planning yardstick.

These essential food groups . . . worked out by the Institute of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture . . . are the dairy foods, the meat group, vegetables and fruits, and lastly, bread and cereals.

Cheese, ice cream and other milk-made foods can supply part of the milk intake requirements for good health . . . three to four glasses a day for children . . . four or more for teenagers . . . and two or more for adults. The meat group includes fish, poultry, eggs or cheese, with dry beans, peas and nuts as alternates. Two or more servings should be eaten each day from this category.

Four or more daily servings of vegetables and fruits should include dark green or yellow vegetables as well as citrus fruits or tomatoes. The bread-cereal group includes enriched, whole grain or restored bread and cereals on the basis of four or more daily servings.

This basic four pattern fits any budget . . . it applies to each of the three meals equally . . . no skimping at breakfast and lunch and then stuffing at dinner time. By combining the basic four formula with food variety and a little ingenuity in preparation and serving, the homemaker can become a pretty fine nutritionist all by herself.

A Dessert That Does beautifully by milk and eggs is Spanish Cream, named for its land of origin. This custard requires no baking. Unflavored gelatin is added and the dessert goes into the refrigerator to be chilled until firm. It may be trimmed with favorite fruits, chocolate, caramel or other sauces or be topped with whipped cream sprinkled with nuts.

Two American Favorites . . . tuna fish and acorn squash . . . are served together in this Japanese adaptation. An abundance of vegetables is used in Japanese cuisine and many dishes combine vegetables with seafood. Here a tuna mixture is cooked in acorn squash and served with a chicken-flavored sauce.

A Meat or Vegetable filling may be used for these Tomato Flowers . . . a nourishing salad meal that makes a lovely centerpiece that family or guests will enjoy looking at and eating. The egg-topped "flowers" are served on a luscious green bed of endive, romaine and lettuce.

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

Miss Judith Ann Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schmidt, route 1, Hortonville, became the bride of Milton A. Pelky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pelky, route 1, Shiocton, at 1 p.m. Wednesday in a double ring ceremony performed in Bear Creek.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Floyd Grode as matron of honor, Mrs. Reuben Schmidt, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Donna Hennig.

Best man was Floyd Grode and groomsmen were Reuben and Ralph Schmidt, brothers of the bride.

American Legion club in Shiocton was the setting for the dinner, reception and dance. The newlyweds will reside at route 2, Shiocton, when they return from a northern Wisconsin honeymoon.

The young people attended Shiocton High school. Mrs. Pelky is employed at Riverside Paper corporation and her husband works at Murphy Construction company.

- Spanish Cream
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 - 6 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 2 eggs, separated
 - 2 cups milk
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Mix together gelatin, two tablespoons sugar and salt in saucepan. Beat together egg yolks and one cup milk. Add to gelatin mixture. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves, about five minutes. Remove from heat. Add remaining cup of milk and vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining four tablespoons sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture. Turn into a 4-cup mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve with chocolate or butterscotch sauce, whipped cream or fruit.
- Frosted Meat Loaf
- 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate
 - 2 pounds ground beef
 - 1 cup corn flake crumbs
 - 1 cup evaporated milk
 - 1 egg
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 teaspoon dry mustard

For a New Flavor interest in a meat-and-potato dinner, try this Frosted Meat loaf. The basic meat loaf mixture contains cubed cheese and spices for added nourishment and tang. An instant mashed potato frosting makes the dish a display piece.

Here's a New Way to serve hot dogs . . . the children's favorite. Excellent fare for lunch, the Ring-a-Rosy Hot Dog, filled with chopped fresh vegetables and sauce, is served on hamburger buns. With potato chips, milk or hot cocoa, an appealing young fry meal is complete.

- 1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon thyme
1 cup minced onion
1 pound sharp American cheese, cut in cubes
2 envelopes instant mashed potatoes
- Sprinkle monosodium glutamate over ground beef in mixing bowl. This is used to bring out the flavor. Add all other ingredients, except instant mashed potatoes. Mix with work until well blended. Turn into loaf pan and bake in a 375-degree oven for one hour. Invert meat loaf on ovenproof platter. Prepare potatoes according to package directions. Swirl potatoes on top and sides of meat loaf. Place under broiler heat until potatoes are flecked with brown. Recipe yields eight servings.
- Tuna Stuffed Acorn Squash
- 4 small acorn squash
 - 1/3 cup dried mushrooms, cut in small pieces
 - 1 cup water
 - 1/3 cup grated carrots
 - 7-ounce can tuna, drained and flaked
 - 3 tablespoons instant oats
 - 2 teaspoons sugar
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 1/2 cup canned chicken broth
 - 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- Cut slices from bottom of squash so they will stand. Soak mushrooms in water five minutes. Combine mushroom-water mixture, carrots, tuna, oats, sugar, salt and one-half cup chicken broth. Mix well. Cover bottoms of squash with tuna mixture. Arrange covers over filling and secure with small skewers. Cook squash in two inches boiling salted water about one hour, or until tender. Meanwhile blend cornstarch, monosodium glutamate and remaining cup of chicken broth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Turn to Page 2, Col. 1 ture thicken. Serve chicken broth with stuffed squash.

Tomato Flowers
6 chilled tomatoes
Lettuce, endive, romaine
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped cucumbers
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
2 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper

Cut stem ends from tomatoes. Cut tomatoes four times from the top almost through the bottom to form eight attached "petals." Spread petals apart on the green. Combine all ingredients, except egg slices, and use as filling for tomato flowers. If preferred, the hard-boiled eggs may be chopped and added to the filling, but here the slices are used as a garnish.

For a meat filling, combine one cup diced cooked meat, one cup diced cooked potatoes; one tablespoon minced onion and two tablespoons chopped green pepper. Add salt, pepper and dressing as in the above recipe. Thousand Island, mayonnaise or other dressings may be used, if preferred.

Ring-a-Rosy Hot Dogs
2 pounds frankfurters
16 hamburger buns
1 cup cider vinegar
1 cup water
1 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1 1/2 teaspoon mustard seed
1 teaspoon salt
4 1/2 teaspoons sugar
dash Tabasco sauce

2 medium onions, chopped
6 tomatoes, cut up
1 green pepper, chopped
1 cucumber, chopped
Combine vinegar, water and seasonings. Boil 12 minutes. Pour over the chopped vegetables.

Slash hot dogs horizontally eight times, being careful not to cut through bottom. Form each frank into a ring and fasten with a toothpick. Cook franks on broiler or charcoal grill. Toast buns. Remove picks and place each frank on a bun. Spoon generous serving of sauced vegetables into hole in the center. Serve immediately.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

INCONSIDERATE GUEST:

I am recovering from the effects of a departed house guest who is my husband's second cousin and whom we rarely see. When she arrived, she informed me that she preferred her breakfast at 10 rather than at 8:30 with the rest of us.

I have four growing children and a house to manage with no outside help. I told my husband that inasmuch as the guest is his relative that he was the one to suggest to her that we have breakfast together. But he claims that the wants of a guest should come first and that we should conform to her wishes and habits. In my opinion, no guest should upset the equilibrium of a normally run home unless it might be because of illness or infirmity which didn't happen to be the case. What is your opinion?

Louise Davis Answers:

Our Children

Teachers to be Told About Child's Defects

BY ANGELO PATRI

What should a parent who is entering a child in a school for the first time tell the teacher beyond the usual vital statistics? If that question is well answered it prevents a waste of time and much worry and heartache for all concerned, pupil, teacher and parent alike.

Any physical peculiarity, defect or real handicap should be explained to the teacher at once so that all necessary adjustments of seating, privileges and instruction can be made at the start. Many parents dislike telling such things to the teacher for fear that the information may make a difference in the teacher's attitude. The difference it will make will all be on the side of the child's best interests. He will receive the sympathy and understanding his condition demands.

If a child is hard of hearing say so. Give the teacher the information the physician passed along to the parents. If he is short-sighted, or has any sort of visual difficulty, say so.

considerate. She knew when she came that you manage your own house and family and should have realized that, getting another breakfast would be disconcerting to any hostess who does her own house work. For a week end visit, one might grin and bear it by complying. A longer visit is something else. No house guest should make such demands or requests even in a well staffed house unless the hostess makes the overture by asking her what time she would like breakfast. However, as the "perfect hostess", wishing to cater to the comforts of your guest, I hope you made an attempt at the ten a.m. feeding. Of course, you would have informed her that all of your breakfast earnings would be deprived of her company.

and the teacher will seat him accordingly and keep in mind that this child's eyes must be protected. If he has any need for leaving the room often, say so and the teacher will allow him to slip in and out of the classroom at need without notice.

Work In Harmony

If the child has been ill recently and needs a shortened school session arrange for that in the office so his attendance will not be a matter of official notice making an inconvenience for both home and school. In short, take the school people into confidence so both sides may work in harmony without waste of time and energy.

Then, too, if a child is specializing in some one art such as music or dancing and his lesson hours fall within the school day, arrange for his absence. Any well-managed school will credit a pupil with such outside work when it is genuine. The art teacher should make an appointment with the head of the school and explain the program the pupil is following, and its objective, so there is an understanding about the instruction. If possible, the child's rating and progress should be recorded and a copy sent the school each month. This is necessary so that the child's attendance on the lessons, his progress and interest may be checked.

This frankness on the side of those interested in the pupil's education outside the school is not interference but true helpfulness.

Poppy Sale Date Set

Mrs. Gilbert Melchert, poppy sale chairman, announced at a meeting of the VFW auxiliary Tuesday night, that Sept. 30 has been set for the annual poppy day sale.

It was decided that the group would hold a bake sale at Valley Fair Good Neighbor fair Oct. 1.

Mrs. Frank Koch, hospital chairman, announced that Sept. 26, has been set as the date for the annual birthday party for the residents of Wisconsin Veterans hospital at King. Mrs. Edward Kies, service chairman, reported that 25 birthday cards were sent to Outagamie county hospital patients in September.

A report was given on the eighth district meeting attended by nine members Sunday at Denmark.

It was voted that a Good Citizenship award will be awarded to an Appleton High school senior girl this year. The group also heard a resonance on the post and auxiliary picnic held Aug. 21.

Culotte Fashions

In almost every feminine wardrobe there is a goodly number of shorts and pants. Les girls finds them suitable and comfortable for sports, casual and at-home wear.

How well we look in our trousers, however, is open to discussion. Nothing but a bathing suit gives greater exposure to figure faults. And here's where the new divided skirts come to the rescue.

By any name, divided skirts are still trousers. But they are constructed so as to minimize weight problems.

The culotte — flared or lines do both and so make a fine figure of a woman! How of figure sins in the most it's done is told in our leaf-fashion-y way. This holds true in the instances of heavy and thin damasks alike. Lines." Advice is individual For utmost flattery, just be and includes silhouettes, necklines, shoulders, sleeves, hips and conceals your knees.

Now what about the slim divided skirts? It will prove your copy, write me in care especially becoming to those of this newspaper, enclosing who can wear a straight, tail-a self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin.

Time Saving Plan

With nearly all of the preparation done ahead of time, plan-o-vers are real time-savers for they require just heating and serving. It is suggested that you get into the habit of doubling or tripling recipes and freezing the extra for future meals. Be sure to cool the extra portions promptly and package them for freezing immediately. Don't wait until the meal is over.

Sheinwold Singleton King Can Win Trick

A singleton king will often win a trick if you give it a chance. Your opponent doesn't know where the king is nor that it is unguarded. Leave him to his own devices, and he will probably try a finesse, losing to your king.

West opened the five of spades, and East easily saw that the ace was the right play. This was very unlucky for South, for if the spades had been evenly divided East might not have known that the king was singleton.

East promptly returned a spade, and South ruffed with the queen of hearts. West discarded a club, and South looked puzzled.

"I like it, and then again I don't," he remarked.

He meant that he was glad that he hadn't been over-ruffed immediately. But now he knew that East had the king of hearts, which meant that a heart finesse couldn't succeed.

There was only one chance, so South took it. He led a trump to dummy's ace in the hope that East's marked king was singleton. It was, and South drew the last trump and claimed his slam.

East's Fault

This was, of course, East's fault. East should have led a diamond at the second trick. Since the spade position was far from clear, South would not know why East was switching to a new suit. South would take the normal heart finesse, losing to East's singleton king.

That would make a difference of 1,530 points. Worth playing for.

The situation would be different if dummy had three small hearts instead of A-x-x. Then East would know that his king of hearts was in a finessable position. He should return the four of spades at the second trick, trying to encourage South to ruff low or not to ruff at all.

Women Meet at Greenville

Greenville — Greenville Homemakers clubs resumed fall meetings with sales to raise money and made plans for the coming homemaker year.

The Jolly Workers homemaker club met at the home of Mrs. Leon Wasservach with Mrs. John Imbery co-hostess. A white elephant sale was held and leaders and places for the meetings were picked.

Mrs. Henry Schaefer, a member of this club and county center chairman for Appleton I will visit other clubs in the county once a year. The Oct. 11 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Corrine Wilbarns with Mrs. Lester Wilbarns co-hostess.

The Greenacres met at the home of Mrs. Lester Nieman with Mrs. Harry Schroeder, co-hostess. Mrs. Archie Kuzenski, president and Mrs. Harry Broehm, vice-president, took over as new officers.

Mrs. Henry Schaefer, center chairman, visited and spoke on the national homemaker sessions in Madison, which she attended for four days.

A bake sale was held and a sunshine committee was appointed including Mrs. Alfred Gresh, Mrs. Gerald Jentz and Mrs. Ethan Bosin.

Oct. 11 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Melvin Doell.

Miss Carla Borree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Borree, 1305 S. Hendricks avenue, Kaukauna, became the bride of James Zacharias, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Zacharias, route 2, Hilbert, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. Roger Wentz officiated at the double ring ceremony at Immanuel United Church of Christ in Kaukauna. The newlyweds are now en route to Niagara Falls for their honeymoon. They will reside at 212 1/2 Black street, Kaukauna, upon their return.

Keep Sandwiches Warm in Foil

How can you keep a hot sandwich hot on a cool day? Put a foil jacket on it. Cut squares of foil large enough to wrap hamburger buns. Split and toast the buns under the gas broiler. Butter them generously and fill with a well seasoned ground ham filling. Wrap each bun in aluminum foil, sealing tightly. Bake in a gas oven, preheated to 400 degrees, for 15 minutes. When it's thoroughly hot, serve with the pickles, relishes and fresh apple cider.

Problems
Woman Wants to Quit Work; Cites High Cost of Earning

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 32 and have held semi-executive jobs ever since I graduated from college. I've had three babies in the last seven years and worked through all three pregnancies. The last baby was almost born in the office. I'm not complaining, because I felt good all the way through. Last month I kept to-the-penny records and discovered that after I paid my house-keeper and laundry, added the taxi, lunch and bus fares, payroll deductions and income tax on my salary, I cleared $77.50 for the month. This does not include money spent on clothes which I wouldn't need if I stayed home.

I told my husband I want to quit work. He grew panicky and said, "We can't make it on one paycheck. You'll have to stay with it." I want to quit. What do you say? Plain Practical

Dear Practical: I say quit. Most families manage on one check and your can, too.

Your children need you more than you need the $77.50 a month. Your husband is unfair to insist that you stay in the harness after you've told him you prefer to stay home.

If you don't get out now, when it makes sense, you'll be totin' that barge and liftin' that bale for the rest of your life.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a charter member of the "I - wish - I - had - it - to - do - over - again" club. I started to date a terrific girl about a year ago. We are both in our early 20's and should have known better than to see each other every night for months.

Well, the inevitable happened. Pretty soon the big attraction was sex and we hardly talked or went any place interesting. You know the old story.

We broke up after three months. I've dated many girls since and she's gone out with different fellows.

Now I've begun to think of her again and I want to date her, but this time on the straight and narrow. Is it possible for a couple to behave themselves after they've had a sizzling love affair?—Steve

Dear Steve: It's possible, but unlikely. To revive a once - intimate relationship on a restrained basis takes a strong will and a stronger won't. You also need co-operation from the girl.

Talk it over with her and make it plain you'd like to start dating her again — this time within moral limits.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'd like to say a few words to the girl who is considering marrying "a nice young American - born man whose grammar and pronunciation is embarrassing."

Many years ago I thought if I corrected my sweetheart tactfully he'd improve. Before our marriage he sat silent when I corrected him. After marriage he let loose with language that is unprintable.

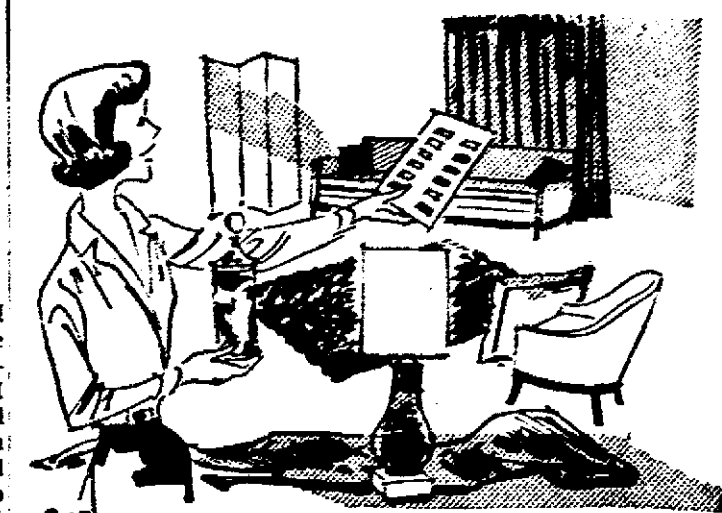

When the children were young they asked him why he said "munt" for month and "wit ya" for "with you." They got the same response I did — a string of profanity. Now the grandchildren are asking the same questions.

You have often said in your column, Ann, "Marriage is not a reform school." I'd like to add, "nor is it a post-graduate course in English." If the fellow doesn't speak correctly by the time he's out of school — he never will. No Teacher

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Avoid Monotony in Monotone Color Scheme

A monotone color scheme, instead of all-beige, which does wonders to make a room keeps the monotone effect, look beautifully spacious, but makes the beige look rich. That's why it's such a big favorite, but sometimes the effect is a disappointment. Why? Because there isn't enough variation of light and dark in the theme color, and because the scheme lacks the touches of brisk color that bring out and save it from being monotonous.

A monotone scheme uses a single soft color, often for the floor, the walls, the draperies, and for some coverings of furniture. Because together they become smooth background, the room looks larger. But a monotonous flatness of tone is relieved when there's an occasional switch to very light or dark shades of the theme color: off-white and shades of brown with beige, for exam-

Wish Comes True for Blind Woman; Attends Daughter's Graduation

Des Moines, Iowa — Mrs. Clarence McDonald, a blind multiple sclerosis patient who lives near Winter set, wanted desperately to come by ambulance to Des Moines to see her daughter, Karen, graduate from a nurses' training school.

Her wish came true. Karen's classmates made the 90-mile round trip possible, raising the money by washing cars and conducting a bake sale. The cost for the ambulance was $70.

Tavern League Rejects Change In State Law

Would not Allow 18-Year-Olds in Liquor Bars

Green Bay — The Wisconsin Tavern league overwhelmingly rejected a resolution Tuesday which called for permitting 18-year-olds to be served beer in liquor taverns. The resolution was presented as the league opened its 25th annual convention in Hotel Northland.

It asked for a change in the present state law restricting the presence of persons under 21 in taverns to the company of parents or spouses.

The convention also heard Municipal Judge Donald W. Gleason, in a talk on juvenile delinquency, state that liquor was a minor part of the delinquency problem. Gleason, complimenting tavernkeepers for their cooperation with law enforcement agencies and courts, said that the great majority of delinquencies were due to parents who either had no supervision over their children's activities or didn't care what they did. He said the real responsibility lies in the home.

E. C. Jones, enforcement director for the state beverage and cigaret tax division, declared that the prevalence of minors in taverns, however, is so serious that it endangers the future of the tavern business. Jones said that while the volume of arrests of minors was small it nevertheless constituted a majority of all arrests made by his division in the past year and consequently hurt the industry.

Ask Tax Drop
The convention passed a resolution petitioning congress to drop the $10.50 a gallon liquor tax back to the $9 as it was prior to the Korean war emergency. The increase was to have expired automatically on June 30 of this year but congress extended it.

Lyle Madison, former Green Bay resident and now a tavernkeeper in Lakewood, was reelected president of the league without opposition Thursday. Although Tuesday's session was devoted to nominations for various offices, it was decided to declare Madison and treasurer Ben Friedl, Wausau, reelected when they encountered no competition. Election of other officers, including three vice presidents and directors, will be Thursday.

Brother Permitted to Visit Bishop in Prison Three Times

Jailed Missionary in Good Spirits; Only Allowed 'Necessary' Items

BY WILLIAM C. WALSH
Written For The Associated Press

The day after my arrival in Shanghai, I visited my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, for the first time.

He was being held in Shanghai jail, serving a 20-year sentence on charges of espionage. Mr. Li, an official of the communist Chinese Red Cross, and Mr. Shen, an interpreter, called at my hotel and took me by car to the walled prison.

I went in, accompanied by the Chinese Red Cross representative, and entered a room in the prison building where a white-coated guard was seated at a table. I was asked to fill out an application, in duplicate — giving my name, relationship to the prisoner, listing any articles I wanted to give him, and certain other information including my telephone number. I gave them my residence phone number at Cumberland, Md.

Read Regulations

I was also required to turn over any articles for the prison. After complying with these formalities, I was taken to another room where I met the prison official who was to preside over the interview. With him was an interpreter. The guard who had taken my application also accompanied me to the room, and in the back sat a photographer.

Seated at an oblong table with the prison official and interpreter on the other side, I was then read the regulations governing visits to the prison.

Among other things, these stated that no written message could be given the prisoner, no notes, cameras or recording devices could be taken to the interview; there could be no discussion of the charges against the prisoner or his trial; that all letters and gifts were subject to approval by prison authorities, and that he could be given necessities only; that the interview was limited to 30 minutes and would be ended instantly if improper matters were discussed.

Shortly after the regulations were read to me, and I had agreed to abide by them, my brother entered the room with these formalities. I was taken to another room where I met Maryknoll Fathers whom I had met in Hong Kong who had been in China with my brother. I asked me particularly to remember them to him. When I started to mention their names I was told this was improper and that I should confine the discussion to family matters.

Talked of Family

My brother and I then talked about various members of the family. A little later I asked him if he wished any efforts made to obtain his release from prison. I asked because he had been authorized by the Chinese authorities to leave China but had refused on the grounds that he wanted to remain with the Chinese people, among whom he had worked most of his life.

The interpreter began talking to the prison official about this question, but before it was ruled out of order, my brother said:

"While no one likes to be confined, I am not unhappy here, and I leave the future entirely in hands of God."

The interpreter told me the subject could not be pursued. My brother appeared to be well. He did not seem dejected, but on the contrary in good spirits. He told me that my visit was the greatest human consolation he had ever received.

Physical Condition

He said he was in the prison's hospital section, not because of any illness but because of his age—69. He seemed somewhat thin, but then his never was very robust, and he told me he weighed 135 pounds, his customary weight.

My brother also told me he had a bed to sleep on; received three meals a day which, though plain, were sufficient; that he was allowed to exercise outside twice daily; that he had a cellmate who was apparently Chinese but who could speak English.

The only work he had to do, he said, was to clean his cell. The cell was free of insects. He had no outside books but got an occasional Chinese newspaper and certain magazines or periodicals produced in China but printed in English.

He doesn't have his breviary or any other religious books, nor does he have a rosary. As a present representing the fiftieth anniversary of our graduation, the authorities of Mount St. Mary's college had provided a gold rosary for the surviving members of the class of 1910.

Gifts Turned Back

I asked permission to give this rosary to him, explaining it was an anniversary gift. It was turned back to me with the comment that it was not necessary for him to have it and that prisoners were allowed only necessities.

I also asked permission to give him a note from W. Wallace McKaig of Cumberland, an old family friend, which only said, "Dear James: Best wishes." This was on a card containing McKaig's name and address. He had enclosed it in an envelope addressed to Bishop Walsh.

This was returned to me with the observation that prisoners could not receive any written messages—and with the added comment that there was no Bishop Walsh in prison.

I was allowed to give my brother a box of cigars, some cookies and candy, a fountain pen, some stationery, some clothing and two pictures of my grandchildren.

Allowed to Smoke

He told me he was receiving the customary two Red Cross packages each month and that he had an ample supply of cigarettes. Apparently, he is allowed to smoke only three or four a day.

On my final visit I also left with the prison authorities my own prayer book, a small one, asking that it be returned to me if my brother did not receive it. I was told the book would have to be inspected, and while I tried to find out about it before I left, I was told it was still under inspection. So I don't know whether or not he got it.

At my first interview with my brother, a photographer was taking pictures. I asked the prison official whether one could be taken of my brother and me together, and this was done in the prison yard. A few days later a Chinese Red Cross representative brought me a print of this picture and also of one taken inside.

I was allowed to visit my brother on Aug. 4, Aug. 8 and Aug. 11. After the first interview of 30 minutes, I told the Chinese Red Cross representative that I had traveled a great distance and would like to have more than half an hour with my brother.

As a result, I was allowed an hour each on my second and third meetings. I was not told in advance just how many times I could see him, but on Saturday, Aug. 6, I was told I could see him next Monday, and on Thursday, Aug. 11, I was told I could see him that afternoon. It was then indicated that this would be the last visit.

Future Outlook

I have tried to give an accurate account of the interviews with my brother. I am not complaining about either the length or their numbers. I appreciate very much having been allowed to see him, and I am very grateful to the Red Cross society of China for obtaining the permission for me, and to the Chinese authorities who granted them.

Shortly before the end of the last visit, we discussed the possibility of our seeing each other again.

We agreed that because of our respective ages and the distance between us, we might not see each other anymore. My brother indicated I should not attempt to make a second trip, saying the recollection of this one would carry him along for some years.

I told him that if I could not get back we would not see each other again unless he got out, and he said, "we will meet in heaven." I was somewhat upset. I remembered from the time our interpreter helped me to open picture was taken in the prison window. When it was on yard that I could see him, opened my brother was permitted to walk across the yard to a passageway. I went to the window and waved to each other and I pulled aside the curtain but said, "So long, James," and as the lower part of the window then he disappeared in the shadow was painted, I could not passageway. Many Harvest Foods In Fox Cities Markets

The smart homemaker will welcome the fresh harvest foods abundant in Fox Cities markets this week. She also will find several poultry and pork bargains to help her weekly budget.

The first of the apple harvest is apparent in the Jonagolds in the stores, selling about three pounds for 39 cents. These are fine bakers and excellent fruit for lunch boxes for those who enjoy their crisp tartness.

Other fruit and vegetable headlines are red Tokay grapes, ranging in price from 17 cents to 33 cents a pound. Firm heads of cauliflower at 17 cents; radishes, cucumbers for both table and pickling.

two pounds for 29 cents; fine quality dry onions three pounds for 19 cents; large, firm heads of cauliflower at 17 cents; radishes, cucumbers for both table and pickling.

Poultry Buys
Fryers and turkeys remain good poultry buys with 10 to 12-pound turkeys averaging 39 cents a pound and the fryers still in the 31-cent range, a few cents higher when purchased cut up. Picnic hams range from 29 to 33 cents a pound. Smoked butts for baking and frying are 59 cents a pound.

Best buys with excellent quality may be found in cabbages, lettuce, carrots, peppers, celery, eggplant, squash and sweet potatoes. Sweet corn is not as abundant as usual, but may still be found in some stores and roadside vegetable stands.

The squash presents a fine array of variety and quality this year, including summer, acorn, Hubbard and zucchini, among other varieties. The green and juicy Thompson variety of seedless grapes, pears for eating, prunes, nectarines, lemons and California oranges are still among the good fruit buys.

Comet Retains Basic Styling

1961 Model Mercury Compact Car Offers Optional Big Engine

The 1961 Comet will retain the basic styling of the 1960 model and will offer an optional more powerful engine, Ben D. Mills, Ford Motor company vice president and Lincoln - Mercury general manager, has announced.

"We are planning to produce more Comets for 1961 and will assemble the new models at plants in San Jose, Calif.; Kansas City, Mo., and Lorain, Ohio," Mills said. "The comet was assembled only at the Lorain plant when it was introduced six months ago."

The standard 85-horsepower engine will be continued, and in addition a 101-horsepower engine will be offered at extra cost. The new engine has a displacement of 170 cubic inches and develops its maximum torque, 156 foot-pounds, at 2,400 rpm.

New Grill
Either engine, with either manual or automatic transmission, is available in 2-door sedan, 4-door sedan, 2-door station wagon and 4-door station wagon.

Styling changes include a new aluminum grill, new fender ornamentation and new standard and optional trim fabrics. Standard fabrics offer more color harmony with exterior colors and there is greater variety in optional fabrics.

In addition to options and accessories in Comet 1960 models, an air conditioning unit is offered for the first time in 1961.

The sedans are 194.8 inches long, 54.5 inches high and 70.4 inches wide. Station wagons are 191.8 inches long, 53.1 inches high and 70.4 inches wide.

Nikita May Announce New Russian Triumph

London — (AP) — Western diplomats speculated Thursday that Nikita S. Khrushchev may hope to mark his arrival in New York with the announcement of some new Russian success in space. The Soviet premier is due to arrive Monday aboard the ship Baltika for the U. N. General assembly.

The London Daily Express contributed a report—unconfirmed by any Soviet authority—that the Soviet Union has rocketed men up 60 miles and brought them back alive.

A Soviet informant in London who declined use of his name said "similar unofficial reports have been current in Soviet circles for the past few days," but there was no confirmation in Moscow.

Lodge to Speak in Green Bay, DePere

Visit May Make News Because of Khrushchev's UN Appearance

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican vice presidential nominee, will make two speeches in the Green Bay area Sept. 21, including the major address of a day of campaigning in Wisconsin.

The schedule includes an appearance at 4:30 p. m. at Pennington auditorium at St. Norbert college and an address at 8 p. m. at the WBAY auditorium in Green Bay. Lodge will arrive at Austin Straubel field at about 4 p. m. after airport appearances in the afternoon at Madison, Oshkosh, and Clintonville. The appearances are open to the public. Students from several northeastern Wisconsin colleges will be invited to the Pennington auditorium appearance.

Lodge is expected to schedule a news conference either after the St. Norbert visit or after the night address. About 20 reporters, besides the Wisconsin press, will be traveling with Lodge.

Lodge will spend the night at the Northland hotel and will leave Wisconsin from Straubel field about 9:30 a. m. the next day.

The fact that Lodge's appearance here will coincide with the United Nations appearance of Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev may make major news. Lodge served as ambassador to the United Nations for seven and one-half years before being nominated for vice president in July.

Parties Pick Candidates In Sheriff Race

Heavy GOP Balloting Rename Shawano County Congressman

Shawano — A Bonduel tavernkeeper and a Badger Breeders Cooperative technician will oppose each other in November to succeed Hugo Baker as sheriff.

In heavy Republican voting Tuesday, Carl L. Krueger, 34, tache Richmond, outpolled Under Sheriff Ted Eul and County Traffic Patrol Chief Edward Bahr to become the GOP standard-bearer in the sheriff race.

Nick Uelman, Bonduel, beat Harry J. Chicks and James M. Knope for the Democratic nomination.

Ted Abrahamson, Tigerton, was assured of reelection as assemblyman when he outpolled John K. Reinke on the GOP ballot. He will be unopposed in November.

Abrahamson won all but 10 of the county's 43 precincts in piling up a 2,805 to 1,977 lead over Reinke.

Krueger carried only 20 of the precincts while Bahr carried 19 and tied with Eul in one. However, Krueger's winning margins, especially in the rural districts, were nearly 2 to 1 and he carried three of Shawano's five wards.

Krueger garnered 2,201 votes to Bahr's 1,462 and Eul's 1,416.

Uelman carried 31 precincts. In many he won several times more votes than both of his opponents. He polled 608 to 352 for Knope and 106 for Chicks.

Kiel Woman Found Dead In Her Bed

Kiel — Mrs. Isadore Zorn, 48, route 2, Kiel, was found dead in her bed about 6:25 a. m. today by her husband and son, Dennis.

Coroner Leroy Hughes ruled death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Zorn complained of a headache Wednesday but worked some six hours at the Chilton Canning company Wednesday night. She was not under doctor's care, Hughes said.

She is survived by the widow, one son, three daughters and her mother.

Martin Gloudemans, Former Little Chute Businessman, Dies

Martin A. Gloudemans, 68, Pulaski, formerly of Little Chute, died Wednesday afternoon after a long illness.

He operated a plumbing, heating and sheet metal business in Little Chute and Pulaski. He was born in Little Chute and lived there until 1954.

Survivors include the widow, two sons and two daughters. Funeral services will be at 11 a. m. Saturday at Assumption of Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic church, Pulaski, with burial in St. John cemetery, Little Chute.

State Colleges Have Record Number of Freshmen Enrolled

Madison — A record 5,807 freshmen have enrolled at Wisconsin's nine state colleges for the fall semester, boosting the total number of students registered to 15,600.

Latest figures released Wednesday listed Eau Claire with 1,815 students; La Crosse, 1,810; Oshkosh, 2,235; Platteville, 1,705; River Falls, 1,435; Stevens Point, 1,825; Stout, 1,465; Superior, 1,310; and Whitewater, 2,000.

The Romanesque Arch of Ormsby hall framed dozens of scenes similar to this as Lawrence college freshmen women moved in to mark the start of Lawrence's 113th year. An unidentified father is at the left, while the center group consists of Susan Bayer, Merrill, an incoming freshman whose parents both attended Lawrence before her; counselor Sue Daniels, Elgin, Ill.; and Charles McMillan, Merrill. The Merrill contingent hired a truck to move three of them to the campus. A large pennant on the side read "Lawrence Or Bust."

Woman Killed Instantly by C&NW Train

A woman tentatively identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Matthes, middle 80s, 248 Lake road, Menasha, was killed instantly about 1 p. m. today when she walked in front of a Chicago and North Western 400 at the downtown Appleton Superior street crossing.

The woman was identified through papers on her person.

The woman was walking north on Superior street and seemed to hurry across the tracks as the train bore down on her. Earl Kruger, Milwaukee, engineer, said. The train was No. 149, northbound.

Godfrey May Be Host on Candid Camera

Allen Funt's Show
To Start Oct. 2
As CBS Highlight

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Studio Writer

New York —(AP)— Negotiations have not yet been concluded, but it looks as though Arthur Godfrey will be returning to weekly television in less than three weeks as host on "Candid Camera."

Viewers remember the "Candid Camera" hilarity on last season's Garry Moore show—a sort of peeping Tom tape of average citizens, taken under exasperating or amusing circumstances. At first blush, it hardly seems to be an ideal vehicle for a TV personality of Godfrey's stature. The program is based on a device which is more important than any stars connected with it.

Godfrey, however, does not feel that way about the new CBS show, scheduled to enter the Sunday evening lineup on Oct. 2.

Interested in Idea
"It's the only gimmick idea I'd be interested in," he explained. "I think it will prove a good respite from the usual television fare and there's plenty of room in it for creative imagination."

"Allen Hunt, the producer, and I had a long talk about that Monday and the possibilities of the program are inexhaustible."

Godfrey's interest was caught by the program when he was asked to be a guest on the first show. He played the

Wary Englishman

Roger Moore May Break Jinx In New Beau Maverick Role

AP Movie-TV Writer

Hollywood —(AP)— The wary Roger Moore has it figured, this is the last season the westerns will ride high on TV.

Here is his reasoning: "No matter what I join, it's the end of the cycle. MGM brought me from England to appear in pictures like 'The King's Thief' and 'Diane.' That was the end of costume pictures. I also was the last of a string of British actors who were brought to Hollywood after the war—James Mason, Stewart Granger, Edmund Purdom.

"So they shipped me back to England. I returned to appear in 'The Miracle.' It marked the end of religious pictures."

Roger moved over to TV and did some pioneering of a northern cycle as star of "The Alaskans." What happened to it?

"The ice melted" was his simple explanation.

When the series collapsed from sponsor fatigue, Roger was pressed into duty as replacement for the errant James Garner in "Maverick," a medal in the Civil war—Garner walked out on his contract, rendering Jack Kelly brotherless.

"I argued and argued foolishness, he moved to against doing the series," England for a few years. Roger said. "In the first, I watched as Jack Kelly and place, I didn't like the idea of his newfound cousin went being a replacement for any-through the finale for one of body. Secondly, I thought it the season's new adventures. would be risky for an English—they were in fine form, bilk-man to do a western. ing the town heavies out of

"I must say they were very $15,000 and departing arm-in-convincing. They told me I arm with a beautiful doll.

Your children would love Hawaii. They would love its wave-washed beaches, friendly sun and fields of sugar cane.

Sugar cane so pure, sweet and clean, little Hawaiians eat it raw. While we grown-ups make it into sugar...for our friends on the mainland. C and H Sugar. World's finest, we believe.

For sugar grows sweetest in a happy climate...where the sun is warm and the rains are gentle. And in soil so rich, even orchids grow wild. This is Hawaii. This must be where sugar was meant to grow.

Will you use C and H Sugar? You already do? You're wonderful!

107 Million Old Enough to Vote This Year

Many of Them Will Not Qualify, Census Bureau Says

Washington — About 107 million American civilians will be old enough to vote in the November presidential election, the census bureau estimated Wednesday.

The bureau noted that many of these millions will be ineligible to vote because they have not satisfied state voting requirements, are confined in prisons or mental hospitals, or live in the District of Columbia and lack voting residence in any state.

In the 1956 election 61.6 million votes were cast.

The bureau gave state-by-state estimates based in part on preliminary results of the 1960 census. The figures include all civilians 21 and over for 46 states and the District of Columbia. For Georgia and Kentucky, the estimates include those 18 or over, for Alaska 19 and over and for Hawaii 20 and over. These four states permit persons under 21 to vote.

Estimates by States

The estimates for each state were:

Alabama, 1,825,000; Alaska, 83,000; Arizona, 680,000; Arkansas, 1,029,000; California, 2,219,000; Colorado, 1,007,000; Connecticut, 1,590,000; Delaware, 264,000; District of Columbia, 492,000; Florida, 3,089,000;

Critics Very Rarely Win In Fight With Producers

Audiences to Free Show in London Can't See Why Ballet Was Panned in Reviews

BY JINGO

The theater's battle with the critic has many twists and turns and the critic very seldom wins. Words are cut out of his most cutting type of reviews and are used as puffs for the show in the ads or a campaign of righteous indignation is raised to label all critics venal morons.

Recently in London an American received horrible notices of a ballet he imported and the houses started to become threadbare; so he threw the show open free for the public to make its own comments.

As usual the critics lost. The audience proved 320 to 129 the critics were wrong — or that 320 people were grateful and 129 were ingrates. The show is back on a paying basis.

However, a good review can't get wide enough circulation. Brooks Atkinson liked the Stratford, Ont., Shakespearean troupe in New York, as did Fox Cities audiences during the eighth season of the premiere festival of the White "resting" he scattered Lawrence Music and Drama his act from Nevada to Hawaii.

The Canadians had the review photostatted and mailed around the nation. The moral, of course, is to have critics behave themselves and agree with the producers.

The critics and the public agreed wholeheartedly on the TV show "The Rifleman" starring Chuck Connors. The fine serial of a father and son upholding decency in the west, and, incidentally, demonstrating some worthwhile principles for the viewers will start its third season on ABC on Sept. 27.

Topping anyone's list of entertainers and people is Red Skelton and Red returns the admiration by spreading himself thinner than should be expected of anyone. His 13 week "vacation" from TV will end Sept. 27 when he returns to "Dante" of Dante's Inferno, a backroom gambling joint. The story was tried earlier in TV history by Dick Powell, who is producing this second try. Alan Mowbray, Tom D'Andrea and Mort Miller are in the supporting cast. A carrier pigeon is featured in the premiere episode.

Trials to be Helpful But Gets Lumps For His Efforts

Detroit — John Ingolia tried to be helpful. He saw smoke pouring from a second floor window next door Tuesday. He raced into the apartment building and found an over-stuffed chair afire. He grabbed it and started downstairs. Halfway down, he met a woman who lived on the first, had been ripped down some time ago.

"Don't bring that smelly thing down here," she ordered. "I'll take it out the back," he replied, stumbling backwards up the stairs.

Ingolia took the chair through a back door on the second floor. But he found himself treading air. He didn't know the porch floor. Ingolia's injuries were minor. There wasn't much left of the chair.

Scientific Advances Outdate Iodine Pills

The weekly grade school ritual of passing out chocolate flavored iodine tablets has disappeared as new marketing methods and scientific innovations have advanced, reports Miss Doris Staidl, consumer marketing agent for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Iodized salt, imported vegetables and seafoods now provide the quantities of iodine needed for normal growth and goiter prevention. Foods grown in the soils of the Great Lakes region and Pacific Northwest do not contain iodine, so it must be supplied from other sources.

Before iodized salt was available in every grocery store, chocolate flavored pills for youngsters as well as adults as Appletton High School juniors and seniors chose 38 council members and 38 assistants to represent them in the student government.

Kimberly, Little Chute Clash Friday Night At Papermaker Field

KHS Seeks to Snap 3-Year Win Streak of St. John Dutchmen

Kimberly — With an eye,ly had an overall 3-4 record on snapping a 3-year St. John victory string, Kimberly High school will meet the Little Chute gridiron squad at 8 p.m. Friday here.

Coach Jim Nirschl's Papermakers have been drilling for the last two weeks in preparation for the opener against the rival Dutchmen.

Team Records
With nine lettermen to form the nucleus of his squad, Nirschl has been experimenting with various units to find a smooth working combination. In the only outside scrimmage, the Papermakers met Oshkosh High Saturday. In the 1959 season, Kimberly had an overall 3-4 record including 3-3 in the Mid-Eastern conference. St. John had a 4-1-2 record and won the Fox Valley Catholic conference championship with a 2-0-2 mark.

The last Kimberly victory over St. John was by a 20-12 margin in 1956. In 1957 the Chuters edged out a 7-0 victory, then won 13-6 in 1958 and last year took a 20-6 triumph. Previous to the three Chute wins, the Papermakers had racked up a trio of victories also, winning in '54, '55 and '56.

St. John has one game under its belt already, a 21-6 victory over St. Joseph of Kenosha Sunday. The Chute defense stood out, particularly in the second half, when the Kenosha team failed to get by the midfield stripe.

Coach Bill Fitzpatrick also has nine lettermen back from last season, the majority being linemen.

Kimberly Starters
Kimberly starters will probably be picked from these lettermen ends Dave Minten, Tom Rooyakkers and Wes Vander Velden; tackles Jerry Binsfeld and Jack Bitort, center Jeff Vander Veldeu and backs Dave Manley, Rick Polman and Bill Maas. Manley was a guard last season but has been shifted to the backfield to utilize his speed.

Others with experience who will probably make up the rest of the starting unit for the Papermakers are linemen Gary Dresang, Jim Wulterkins, Cletus Nelessen and Allan Schmidt.

Dave Hamann and Tom Roovers have been working out at the quarterback spot. Both saw limited action last season behind Don Hearden. The Papermakers are expected to have a strong passing attack in 6-5 Rooyakkers at one end and speedy Minten at the other.

Chute Lineup
Fitzpatrick will probably have Dan Hietpas and Jim Van Asten at ends, Ron Koss and Dave Simon at tackles, Dennis Mahn and Clayton Baumgart at tackles and Mark Hietpas at center. Jim Geurts will be at quarterback with Bob Verkuilen, at fullback and Roy Vandenberg and Joe Verkuilen at halfbacks.

Others slated to see action include linemen Tom Ebben, "Chuck" Fritsch, Dan Hurst, Gene and Ron Van Lankvelt and Al Ebben. Backs who will be on the reserve list include Jerome Diedrich, Don Janssen, Jay Lamers and Dan Mulry.

Antigo Man Admits Speeding Violation

Kaukauna — Gerald E. Pilhofer, 24, Antigo, signed a waiver stipulating his guilt to a charge of speeding and posted bond of $19.75 at the police station Tuesday.

Pilhofer was arrested for traveling 48 miles per hour in a 25-mile an hour zone. He will have six points charged against his driving record.

Barbara Otte Named Head of KHS Honor Unit

Kaukauna—Temporary and permanent members of the Augustin Grignon National Honor society named Barbara Otte president.

The new president is a member of the varsity cheer leading team, a member of GAA, vice president of GAA last year, past vice president of the National Forensic league, active in forensics, debate, Dramatics club, Spanish club, is editor of the Broadcaster and a member of Quill and Scroll.

Other officers named Karen Lindemuth, vice president, and David Foxgrover, secretary-treasurer. Miss Lindemuth is president of Quill and Scroll and the Youth Center, is active in the Latin club, dramatics and forensics and is an editor for the Broadcaster.

Foxgrover has headed his class as president for four years, participates in Latin, science and forensic club activities, a member of Quill and Scroll, editor for the school paper and representative to Badger Boys state.

Legion Opens Member Drive

Kaukauna — The annual American Legion membership drive opened this week and will be continued through Nov. 11 in an effort to increase last year's total, according to Sherman Rogers, drive chairman.

Last year the local post was one of the first in the state to exceed the previous year's membership and the ninth district, of which Kaukauna is a member, was the first in the nation to surpass previous memberships.

Little Chute Girls Set Saturday Sale Of Scout Uniforms

Little Chute — Girl Scouts of Little Chute will conduct a uniform sale from 10 to 11:30 a. m. Saturday at St. John Grade school social room.

Persons selling uniforms are to have them marked with the size as well as the name, address and telephone number of the previous owner. Brownie, intermediate, senior and adult uniforms will be sold.

Village Man Fined for Being Disorderly

Memberships in Youth Center Being Accepted

Kaukauna — Membership cards for the Youth Center are now on sale and can be purchased from Fred Barbeau or Francis DeBruin, directors.

Membership is open to all high school age youngsters in the city, according to Barbeau. The Youth Center, located in the basement of the high school, is open from 7 to 9:45 p. m. on Wednesday's, from 7 to 10:45 p. m. on Friday days and from 7 to 10 p m on Saturdays.

Nights when games or dances are held at the high school, the Youth Center is closed.

578 Set Tops Valley League

Little Chute — Jim Swedberg rolled a 578 series to take individual honors in the Fox Valley Bowling loop at Little Chute Recreation lanes.

Other honor counts were posted by Chesty LeNoble, 572, Floyd Hammen, 570; Eddie Poppe, 560, and Hank Evers, 550.

Enrollment in Public School Totals 1,754

Superintendent Sees Increase of 241 Over 1959-60 Attendance

Kaukauna — Enrollment in the public schools this year totals 1,754, an increase of 241 over the 1,513 reported last year, according to Julius Biehler, superintendent of schools.

Enrollment at Kaukauna
High school has increased 94 students from 854 to 948 and enrollment at Park school has increased 53 students from 362 to 415. Nicolet school enrollment is up 94 from 297 to 391.

There are 268 freshmen at the high school, 47 more than last year; 234 sophomores or 28 more than last year; 215 juniors, 16 less than last year, and 231 seniors, 35 more than last year.

Other Schools
Nicolet school reports 146 first graders this year, an increase of 118 over last year. These are mostly students from St. Mary's parochial school where the first grade was discontinued this year. An increase of seven second graders was noted, raising the total to 32. Third grade is down two to 22 and fourth grade is down seven to 20. Kindergarten enrollment at the school increased from 137 to 147.

Park school reports an increase of 14 eighth graders, bringing the total to 49, an increase of one seventh grader to 108. Enrollment in the special class is down two from 51, an increase of 14 to 12

23 Harriers Report for 1st Practice of Season at KHS

Kaukauna — The initial Point park, Clintonville, New call for cross country candidates at Kaukauna High school resulted in 23 report- ing including one letter winner from the championship 1959 Mid-Eastern conference against Appleton and Kimberly at Pierce park, Appleton, on Oct. 4 and four days later at Shawano.

Lone letter winner is Jim Zuelzke, a junior, who also serves as team captain. Four boys who ran last year, but failed to win monograms, re- turning are Leigh Wachel, Dick Spaulding, Vincent Mach and Norman Eppinger.

Meets Planned

Freshmen showing interest are Ken Grissman, Dennis Kasten, Ken Lopas, Dave Lust and Dave Wollangk. The Harriers are scheduled to open against Kimberly on Sept. 27. Kimberly will be running meets at Sunset

Adults interested may register by appearing at the classes this Saturday or the following week. Assistance will be given late registrants. The recreation department sponsored art classes for children are scheduled to open in October. Registrations are being accepted for 4-year-olds, at this group to take instructions with kindergarten, first and second grade youngsters. Registrations can be made by calling Mrs. Belling.

Men Had to Feed Fiery Bowels of Green Bay and Western Engines

BY BOY F. VALITCHKA II
Food-Creant Staff Writer

The Green Bay and Western railroad was made up of steel rails across the Fox Cities area and state, but it took men to run the great "iron monsters" from city to city.

Frank Valitchka, Oconto, was one of those men who fed the fiery bowels of the G. B. & W. engines in the early 1900s.

Valitchka fired passenger runs from Green Bay to Winona, Minn., and Green Bay to Sturgeon Bay and some freights from Green Bay to Algoma.

Run Through Hole

He remembers carrying loads of cherries from Sturgeon Bay and having troubles running through a sink hole in Maplewood between Sturgeon Bay and Algoma.

A passenger train engine often was called out to run through the hole, he said.

Second of series

This engine was lighter and could coast through the dip. A freight engine would lack the pull and speed to run through the hole pulling a load.

A run from Green Bay to Sturgeon Bay would start at 7 a. m. The train would return by 4:30 p. m. the same day. A single run would require anywhere from three to six tons of coal, depending upon the type engine used. Average speed of a run was from 35 to 40 miles an hour, Valitchka said.

Long Oneida Grade

He often fired a "wild" run from Green Bay to Wisconsin Rapids. These were special trains put on for extra freight or to get cars through.

A run normally would start at 8 or 9 a. m. at Green Bay. The train would roll into Wisconsin Rapids about 3 or 4 p. m.

A long grade into Oneida was one of the first rough spots encountered in a trip west. The fireman had to work hard to keep up a head of steam when the train lumbered up the grade.

Hunt From Train

Oneida, he recalls, was a group of tarpaper shacks. A fresh load of coal would be picked up at Shiocton where cabbage was loaded during the harvesting and canning season.

New London was one of the passenger and junction

Fluffy Scrambled Eggs Easily Prepared

Using evaporated milk you can turn out beautifully fluffy scrambled eggs with a minimum of effort. Just beat six eggs until fluffy, then beat in one cup plus two tablespoons evaporated milk, one-quarter teaspoon salt and one-quarter teaspoon pepper. Over low heat melt enough butter in a frypan to cover the bottom of the pan. Pour the egg mixture, cover and cook over low heat about five to six minutes without stirring. Stir lightly, cover and cook until done, about five to six minutes longer. Makes four to six delicious servings.

Peanut Stuffed Eggs

Remove yolks of hard cooked eggs; mash yolks, add enough mayonnaise to soften plus a dash of Tabasco and a dash of Worcestershire sauce; add finely chopped peanuts, about one-half cup chopped peanuts to six stuffed eggs. Blend well; fill egg white halves; chill and serve as hors d'oeuvres or as a salad.

These Hot Grill Sandwiches Can Be Made at Home

Ideal outings are frank and cabbage wraps, a new way to serve franks on buns.

The sandwiches which contain cabbage in a peppery dressing in addition to the franks and shredded cheese are prepared at home, wrapped individually in foil, and carried to the picnic site. At serving time, the packages are arranged on top of the grill and heated through.

Frank and Cabbage Wraps
1 pound franks
1 1/2 cups shredded cabbage
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 cup shredded American cheese
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt
10 frank buns
Butter

Combine cabbage, green pepper, pimiento, cheese, mustard, mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce, and salt. Blend well. Cut frank buns and spread with butter.

Spoon about three tablespoons of the cabbage mixture onto each bun. Cut each frank in half lengthwise. Place frank halves on top of cabbage. Add top of bun. Wrap each frank and bun in aluminum foil.

Place on outside grill for 25 to 30 minutes or until warm. Pull back foil, serve.

Let Everybody Make His Own Sandwiches

Letting picnickers make their own sandwiches saves time and gives everybody a "part in the act."

Just take along wholesome enriched, buttered bread slices and fillings that travel well. These might be — processed cheese, peanut butter mixed with apple sauce or crushed pineapple, jam or canned deviled meats.

$347,000 Sewer Project Proposed for Neenah

Consultant Says Sanitary System, Interceptors Inadequate

Neenah—Projects totaling $347,125 were recommended to the city by the Jerry Donohue Engineering company to correct the city's sanitary sewer system. Both the sanitary sewers and the interceptors are inadequate to handle the city's load, the engineers declare.

Mayor Bell explained today the council will give a very careful consideration and study to the recommendations before action is taken. Copies of the voluminous and exhaustive survey report were presented to aldermen and Neenah-Menasha Sewerage commission members this week.

This is a very pretentious program, the mayor stated, and we do not know yet if we do all of it, which proposals we will do first and over how long a period we will do the projects suggested.

Wayne G. Bryan, public works director, suggested in a summarizing memorandum to the council that about 10 per cent, or $34,000, be added as the cost of correcting defects now being searched out in the system.

The city presently is conducting fogging operations in its sewers to discover if there are any cross-connections or

List Projects For Neenah Sewer Work

Consultant Urges Nine Changes to Reduce Flooding

Neenah — Relief sewers, a new storm sewer and revision of various sub-stations are among the $347,000 in projects recommended to the city of Neenah by the Jerry Donohue Engineering company as the result of its study of the city's sanitary sewer system.

These projects, which will be studied by the council are:

1. Installation of a 30-inch sewer from the collection point at Union and Monroe streets to the collection point at Winneconne avenue and Harrison street at an estimated cost of $17,625.

2. A relief sewer on Doty street, Walnut street, Franklin avenue and Spruce street in District No. 10 at a cost of $65,850. District 10 includes parts of the Second, First, Eighth, Ninth and 10th wards and is basically the area from the railroad tracks east and north of the Kessler plat but excluding a strip along the eastern edge of the city and the downtown section.

3. A 12-inch and a 15-inch relief sewer for the Western avenue sewer at an estimated cost of $12,400.

4. A relief sewer on Coolidge avenue and revisions of the Adams street pump station at an estimated cost of $7,450.

5. A relief sewer for the Park and Doty street stations and revisions of the stations at a cost of $18,800.

6. A relief sewer on Cleveland and Harrison streets for the area of the Sixth ward comprising the Hunt and Fairway plats at an estimated cost of $31,800.

7. A 42-inch storm sewer on W. Cecil street and revisions to the Cecil street station at an estimated cost of $62,900. This sewer would run from the Soo Line railroad tracks west to the slough.

8. A reinforcing 27-inch sewer from the collection point at Main and Union streets to the collection point at the rear of the Bergstrom Paper company at an estimated cost of $41,500.

9. A storm water pump station at the collection point at the rear of the Bergstrom Paper company with a sedimentation basin to pre-treat storm water at an estimated cost of $88,800.

The first seven projects listed, which add up to $216,825 in cost, are on the city sanitary sewer system and the last two, totaling $130,300, are on the interceptor system of the sewerage commission.

Oshkosh Firm Gives $5,000 to Loan Fund

Chicago Banker Points Up 2-Way Street Theme of Foreign Trade; Hits Barriers

Oshkosh — A $5,000 check sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce for state college student loan fund was presented Wednesday by Wesley Krisgaard, representative of Standard Kohlsman company, Oshkosh's newest industry.

Krisgaard, appearing on behalf of James Burke, president, said he thought the $5,000 was a good investment, adding "it could be parlayed into $50,000" because it can be matched with $45,000 from the federal student loan fund.

Dr. Roger Guiles, college president, who said the check was a surprise even to him, accepted it for the college and pointed out the average student needs a loan of $500 yearly. The check made it possible for 100 students to attend school this year, he added. (He referred to a $50,000 loan fund, which would be available to 100 students if each needed $500.)

Used Over and Over
The loan must be paid back after graduation and the money can be used over and over again, Guiles went on.

The check presentation was made at an annual dinner

Ryan Heads Twin Cities Heart Fund

Menasha — David E. Ryan, Shore Acres, has been named to head the 1961 Heart fund campaign in Neenah - Menasha by Dr. William B. Hildebrand, Menasha, state Heart Fund campaign chairman. Ryan will appoint division chairmen to assist him with the local campaign plans.

Ryan is the general manager and sales manager of Edge-water Paper company and a vice president of that company. He was the associate chairman for the 1960 Neenah - Menasha Heart Fund drive.

Drivers Injured in Oshkosh Town Crash

Oshkosh — LeRoy Pohlman, 505 Glenview street, Combined Locks, and Russell Miller, 603 Knapp street, Oshkosh, were taken to Mercy hospital in the Miller ambulance early this morning after their cars collided at the intersection of County Trunks A and Justice E. P. Arpin after a trial this morning. He was arrested at 1:45 p.m. on July head cuts and an ankle injury during a radar check on jury Miller received head Main street. Stratz was fined cuts and leg bruises. Both $10 and costs.

99 Per Cent Increase in UW Pupils

Menasha — A 99 per cent enrollment increase has marked the first year of operation of the new University of Wisconsin Fox Valley extension center, which opened this week.

Director Verne Imhoff said 316 students now are attending classes in the new Midway road facility, compared to 160 in last year's first semester.

Registration will continue until Saturday noon. Space is open in most evening classes, Imhoff said.

He listed German 1A, Monday to Thursday nights; engineering drawing, Monday-Wednesday and Tuesday-Thursday sections; psychology 1 (requiring sophomore standing), Monday and Wednesday nights section; Chemistry 1A Monday and Wednesday nights section; sociology 1, Tuesday and Thursday nights; and English 1A, Monday and Wednesday nights.

Jackson said, "Trade agreements can only be adjusted if the peril point is reached, threatening industry and the security of the country."

"In a smaller and increasingly dependent world, we cannot raise an isolationist wall. We must preserve our freedom by engaging in increasing commerce. We can't expect to sell and exploit foreign economies with our investments, unless we buy for them to give them the wherewithal to pay," Jackson concluded.

Oshkosh — Miss Barbara Jane Seaman Wednesday night was hired as Winnebago county dental hygienist at the meeting of the county board's health committee.

She will begin her duties Sept. 19 and fills the vacancy left by Mrs. Jeanne Graves.

A Gift of $5,000 Was Presented to the student loan fund of Oshkosh State college Wednesday night from Standard Kohlsman company, Oshkosh's newest industry. The gift can be matched with $45,000 from the federal student loan fund, making $50,000 available for loan. Plans for the Second political forum sponsored by the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce were formulated Wednesday night at the Valley Inn. Congressman William K. Van Pelt and his Democratic opponent in the November election, James Megellas, will speak at the forum, open to the public, at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Menasha High school auditorium. Left to right, seated, are LeRoy Goldbeck, Kenneth Anderson and Daniel Goggin, chairman, and Fran Simonis, standing, of the Jaycee panel. Paul Payant was absent.

Van Pelt, Megellas To Debate on Panel

Second in Junior Chamber of Commerce Series of Political Education Forums

Menasha — District congressional candidates will appear at the second in a series of Junior Chamber of Commerce political education forums, at 8 p.m. Monday in Menasha High school auditorium.

On the program will be Rep. William K. Van Pelt, Republican incumbent from the Sixth district, and his opponent, James Megellas, Fond du Lac common council president. Megellas opposed Van Pelt in 1958.

The first series included Philip G. Kuehn, Whitefish Bay, Republican candidate for governor.

Van Pelt was a delegate to the 1944 Republican national convention and alternate delegate to the 1958 convention. He was elected to congress in 1950 and re-elected since 1952. He serves on the merchant marine and fisheries and science and astronautics committees.

Megellas is active in the Democratic party in Wisconsin as a field director. He is a former postmaster and managed a moving and trucking firm.

The Jaycees' forums are open to the public. They are not promoting any candidates or their thinking but forums are intended to further political thinking in the community on system of Neenah is not adequate to handle the present contributions of domestic waste, industrial waste and the infiltration of ground water being presently received by the system," the report stated.

NEENAH MENASHA

Interceptors Inadequate
"It is further concluded that the sewer interceptor serving the Neenah sewers which is owned and operated by the Neenah-Menasha sewerage commission is not adequate to the above described contributions received from the Neenah sanitary sewers and is subject to extreme surcharge, thus further complicating the inadequacy of the city system."

The consultants also declared that "Neenah's sewer system is adversely affected by a combination of inherent conditions, including the low topography of the general ground surface, a high water table, and a high incidence of foundation drains, all of which are contributory causes to a leaky system."

"All things considered, however, the rates of contribution of domestic wastes plus infiltration are not unusual when compared to those of typical Wisconsin communities where sewers have been designed to handle flows equally as large."

Load Double Capacity
The report points out the average domestic load, including infiltration, on the Neenah sanitary sewers is 2.2 times the recommended design loading shown in a 1952 report.

The Milwaukee sewerage commission, in an area considerably drier, designs its interceptors for a load approximately 50 per cent larger than the average domestic load found here in Neenah, the aldermen and sewerage commission members were advised.

As to infiltration, the report points out the effect of infiltration varies considerably throughout the city with the maximum being found in low areas with a high ground water table and states that the infiltration does not seem to be localized, but quite evenly distributed.

The only large scale relief in this effect, the report continues, would be accomplished by the replacement of sewers in these areas. The report did not recommend this because of the costs which are estimated at approximately $800,000, which financed over a 20-year period would require, $75,000 to $80,000 a year. Even then, the house sewers in these areas would still be a potential source of clear water.

Foundation rains
In the lower, wetter areas, as much as 65 per cent reduction in peak flows could be obtained by the elimination of water from foundation drains while in the higher areas, approximately a 20 per cent reduction could be obtained.

The consulting engineers point out in their report that if these reductions were accomplished by the elimination of all foundation drain waters from the sewers serving these areas still would be deficient in capacity and that such elimination would result in only minor reductions in the sizes of recommended relief sewers.

Details of the Industrial solicitation for the annual Community chest fund campaign which will get underway Oct. 3 were outlined Wednesday by K. H. Tuchscherer, industrial employee chairman, left above.

Board Refuses To Remove Commissioner

State Body Denies Plea of Waupaca County Contractors

Madison — The Wisconsin Highway commission Wednesday refused to remove from office Commissioner Fred Grunwald from office.

Grunwald's ouster had been asked by Sydney Faulks, a Weyauwega contractor, who made three campaign speeches in Wisconsin.

In March, Democratic presidential hopefuls, Sens. John Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey, met at the Clintonville lodge when their campaign paths crossed here.

Lodge, accompanied by his wife and prominent Wisconsin political figures from his party, will speak at civic ceremonies marking completion of runway extension projects, which give the city facilities to accept Convair-type aircraft.

Lodge will fly to Madison aboard an American Airlines Convair and he will be taken to the state capital steps for a speech at noon. Early in the afternoon he is to fly to Clintonville for the airport rites and for a tour of Clintonville industry and Main street.

He is scheduled to speak in DePere Wednesday night.

Extensive local arrangements are being made to welcome Lodge to the community and congressional district. Following the civic portion of the program which will begin at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, district Republicans have slated a "Thank You, Mr. Lodge" welcome for the former ambassador.

The existing runway has been extended to 4,700 feet so that North Central airlines will be able to serve the city area with its highly desirable Convair flights as soon as scheduling problems can be overcome. In a recent hearing before the Civil Aeronautics board, such service was held important to continued flights here.

charged Grunwald with favoritism in issuing permits for moving heavy equipment over county roads.

Harvey Graese, chairman of the state commission, said evidence presented to his group failed to establish that Grunwald was guilty of any charges serious enough to warrant his removal from office.

Graese said a county commissioner could be removed only for inefficiency, neglect of duty, official misconduct or malfeasance.

"According to the evidence presented at the hearing," he said, Faulks "had failed to prove that Grunwald was guilty of any of these four counts."

Faulks said today, "We are not too surprised at the ruling but we feel the action was necessary. The public hearing made it possible for the people to know themselves."

Faulks' attorney, John Esler, said the obvious next step was an appeal of the administrative commission ruling through the circuit court of Dane county.

Suggests Appeal

Neenah — A possible fractured left ankle was received by William Moersch, 53, 808 Nicolet boulevard, when he was struck by a car driven by Joanne Blom, 18, 132 Edna avenue, at the corner of Nicolet boulevard and Third street.

Moersch was riding east on his bicycle and Miss Blom was headed south. She told police the sun had blinded her and she did not see the cyclist in time. He was taken in the Neenah ambulance to Theda Clark hospital at 4:41 p.m. Tuesday. He also received bruises about the body and legs.

Brigade Hits New High in Enrollment

Neenah — Boys' Brigade enrollment reached a new high with 664 boys registering this week. Registration now is closed.

The enrollment compares with 537 in the Brigade at the close of the year last May. The boys will be divided into 56 groups.

The third floor addition to the Brigade building has enabled the larger enrollment because the previous facilities would have allowed only 600 as the maximum membership. Enrollment by grades is 165 sixth graders, 153 seventh graders, 134 eighth graders, 83 ninth graders, 63 tenth graders and 66 co-leaders who are eleventh and twelfth graders. Eighteen new adult leaders signed up Tuesday night also.

Neenah's 10th Ward Leads Twin City Voter Turnout

Neenah — Voter turnout in voters visited the polls, led the Neenah for Tuesday's primary election was 56.35 per cent, and in Menasha 43.67 per cent. Turnouts in both cities shot up sharply during afternoon and early evening balloting.

End-of-morning checks of polling places showed that 8.6 per cent of Neenah's eligible voters and 7.5 per cent of Menasha's visited the polls before noon.

Best turnout showing was Neenah's First ward — 70 per cent. Of 810 registered, 569 cast ballots. Menasha's Third ward, 50.4 per cent or 570 of whose 1,129 sixth graders, 153 seventh graders, 134 eighth graders, 83 ninth graders, 63 tenth graders and 66 co-leaders who are eleventh and twelfth graders.

Car Hits Porch After Taking Turn
Menasha — A car driven by Raymond E. Zeininger, 27, 805 John street, struck the front porch of the home at 808 Plank road about 6:15 p.m. Monday.

Zeininger told police the accelerator pedal of his car was stuck when he was turning northeast on Plank road from street, returned home Sunday Third street. He said he from a Madison hospital. The where she underwent heart car swung about, its rear end surgery Aug. 30. She will be confined to bed for rest for a month.

Rockets Open Play Against Fondy '11'

Cardinal Roster Boasts 16 Veterans; Neenah to Start Lettermen in Eight Spots

Neenah — What is expected is a senior letterman; ed to be Fond du Lac's finest. Mowry Stulp and Dick Koehn, both regulars in 1959, draw Coach Marion Batterman's Neenah Rockets in their 1960 curtain-raiser Friday night at Fond du Lac. Fruth field will be the site of the 8 p. m. non-conference affair.

The Cardinals enter the fracas with a nucleus of 15 lettermen from last year's club which, at the close of the season, was one of the Fox River Valley conference's best plus a monogram winner, Al Esther, from West Green Bay, Valley league champion. As sophomores, this year's Fondy seniors were league jay-vee titlists.

The Fond du Lac line is beefy, and the rushing attack features the bull-like smashes of fullback Jim Flaherty, who last year was outstanding against the Rockets and averaged 3.8 yards for 62 carries during the season.

Good Passing Attack
The passing attack was one of the best in the league last fall and 6-2 quarterback Jack Nussbaum, who did the firing, returns. His receivers are Jon Brown (6-1) and Esther (6-2). The backfield lacks a breakout runner but will rely on power.

To the credit side also must be added, incentive, for the Cardinals haven't beaten the Rockets since the two clubs started their series in 1956.

Neenah will counter with an offensive lineup which will have lettermen in all but three of the positions.

Paul Felton and Larry Kaemmer, Paul Capick (son of Coach), Charles Bloedorn, Matt Karis, Nussbaum and Ken Wilderman, a fine halfback who was on crutches when the Cardinals visited here last summer.

Lang Garners Top Honors in Business Loop

Slams 618 Series; Hogan Leads Way In 'Industrial'

Menasha — Ken Lang uncorked a 245 game and 618 series to make a sweep of hon-ors in the Business Men's Bowling circuit Wednesday night at the Mid-Town lanes.

Phil Carlson collected a run-nerup 585 trio while other hon-ors totals included Harold Bec-ker 582, Mike Stepanski 571, "Bud" Michals 562 and Clam-will be the linebacks with cy Braun 553. Carlson and Fahrrenkrug and Sauby at the corners and Felton and Zim-merman in the deep spots.

Fondy Veterans
Tesch will do the punting and Stulp has been assigned for the kickoff and point-after-touchdown duties.

Fondy's lettermen, includ- ing Esther, are nine line- men and seven backs. Up City Men's Industrial Bowling league in its opening night er, a 225 pounder, Dan Buss, Tuesday at Mid-Town. A year ago, Hogan belted a 704 na- tional honor count on the first night.

Neenah Plant posted a 914 game and 2,629 series for team highs. Appleton Auto Wrecking, Gilbert Paper, Ma- rathon River Street, Valley Lumber and Fuel and Wis- consin Tissue Mills all are tied for first place with 14 Petersen points.

Lynus Krueger's 561 series was the only honor count re- ported in the Uptown Com- mercial league Wednesday night at Mid-Town. Elmer's W-W and Pattern Markers are knotted for the lead with 5-1 slates.

520 Total Paces Women's League

Neenah — Marie Suttner fired a 520 series and Betty Clow had a 212 game to lead the way in the Neenah Women's City Bowling league Wednes- day night at Muench's Rec- reation alleys.

The former included a 199 game in her leading three- some while Mrs. Chow closed with a 508 trio. Bea Koslos- ke's 201 line was the only other honor total.

Neenah Taxi had a 2,229 se- ries and Larson - Schreiter, an 811 game, for team hon- ors. Wins and losses will be announced after handicaps have been determined.

Speeders Fined

Neenah — Police Justice E. P. Arpin this morning impos- ed fines of $10 and costs each on Robert E. Blank, 32, and Robert L. Peotter, 28, both of 210 Plummer avenue, after they pleaded guilty of speed- ing on N. Commercial street at 12.05 a.m. today.

Shares Again Drift Lower

Key Issues Fall From Fraction Up to Full Point

New York —The stock market drifted lower in moderate trading early this afternoon as Wall Street wondered whether 1960's "triple bottom" would hold.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .60 at 215.30 with the industrials down .90, the rails down .30 and the utilities down .20.

Key stocks declined from fractions to about a point. The market was lower from the start, met some scattered support and was a bit lower as the session wore on. Steels, chemicals, drugs, oils, utilities and electronics declined. Autos, nonferrous metals and tobaccos were mixed.

The list still lacked incentive from business news. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.18 to 603.51.

Post-Crescent Staff Members to Speak at Advertising Meeting

Will Olson, manager, copy service department, and Kenneth Davis, manager, retail advertising, for the Appleton Post-Crescent, will be among speakers at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Newspaper Advertising association Friday and Saturday in Wisconsin Rapids.

Lynn Surles, Milwaukee business and industrial consultant and member of Marquette university's business administration school, will be dinner speaker.

Other speakers include Joseph Novak, Janesville Gazette; Mrs. Maxine Kahler, La Crosse Tribune; and William H. Scrivner of Madison Newspapers Inc. A tour of the Wisconsin Rapids Tribune's new plant is on the agenda.

Add Showers To Cool Air Forecasts

Showers are expected to be added to the cool weather by Saturday. More cool air, in addition to what already is here, will accompany the rain, the weatherman says.

The mercury fell to a low of 53 Wednesday night. It was nearly 10 degrees higher than the lows Monday and Tuesday.

Girl, 4½, Can't Wake Dead Grandfather, Walks to Neighbor

A 4½-year-old girl could not awaken her grandfather Wednesday afternoon and took her 1½-year-old sister to a neighbor's home about a quarter-mile away to summon aid. The man was dead.

G. Buel Stedjee, 75, route 1, Black Creek, a retired farmer, apparently died while baby sitting with his son's two children at his own home, Coroner Bernard Kemps said.

about 3 p.m. and trudged to a neighbor, Mrs. Arnold Lemmon, with her younger sis-

not respond. An older Stedjee child was in school.

Kemps was told.

widow.

Hurricane Ethel Will Bring moderate to heavy rains tonight in the Gulf coast and southern Atlantic states. Scattered showers are expected in the upper Mississippi valley to North Dakota and in the central Rockies.
